SC rejects PIL seeking 'renaming commission'

The Supreme Court on Monday dismissed a PIL seeking setting up of a 'renaming commission' to restore original names of ancient, cultural and religious places renamed by invaders, saying India can't be a prisoner of the past. A bench questioned the motive behind the PIL filed by lawyer Ashwini Upadhyay, saying, "Our country is secular and Hinduism is a way of life, which has assimilated everyone and there is no bigotry in it" | P11

CHHATTISGARH

Green Growth

New Paradigm of Development

The Chhattisgarh Government has conceptualised a new model of development which focuses on agriculture, the mainstay of the nation's GDP. It has done this by looking at rural development in a holistic manner, by not merely including agriculture, but also forest produce and the dairy revolution.

Few states in the country have been able to do this and also ensure zero waste in the process. The Chhattisgarh model of development is one that centres on the village as a unit of profit. It also looks at the farmer as one who is innovative, dynamic and entrepreneurial. The farmer is also seen as the font of traditional wisdom of water conservation and tree plantation. The result is there for all to see: there is record foodgrain production and a high number of farmers who have benefited.

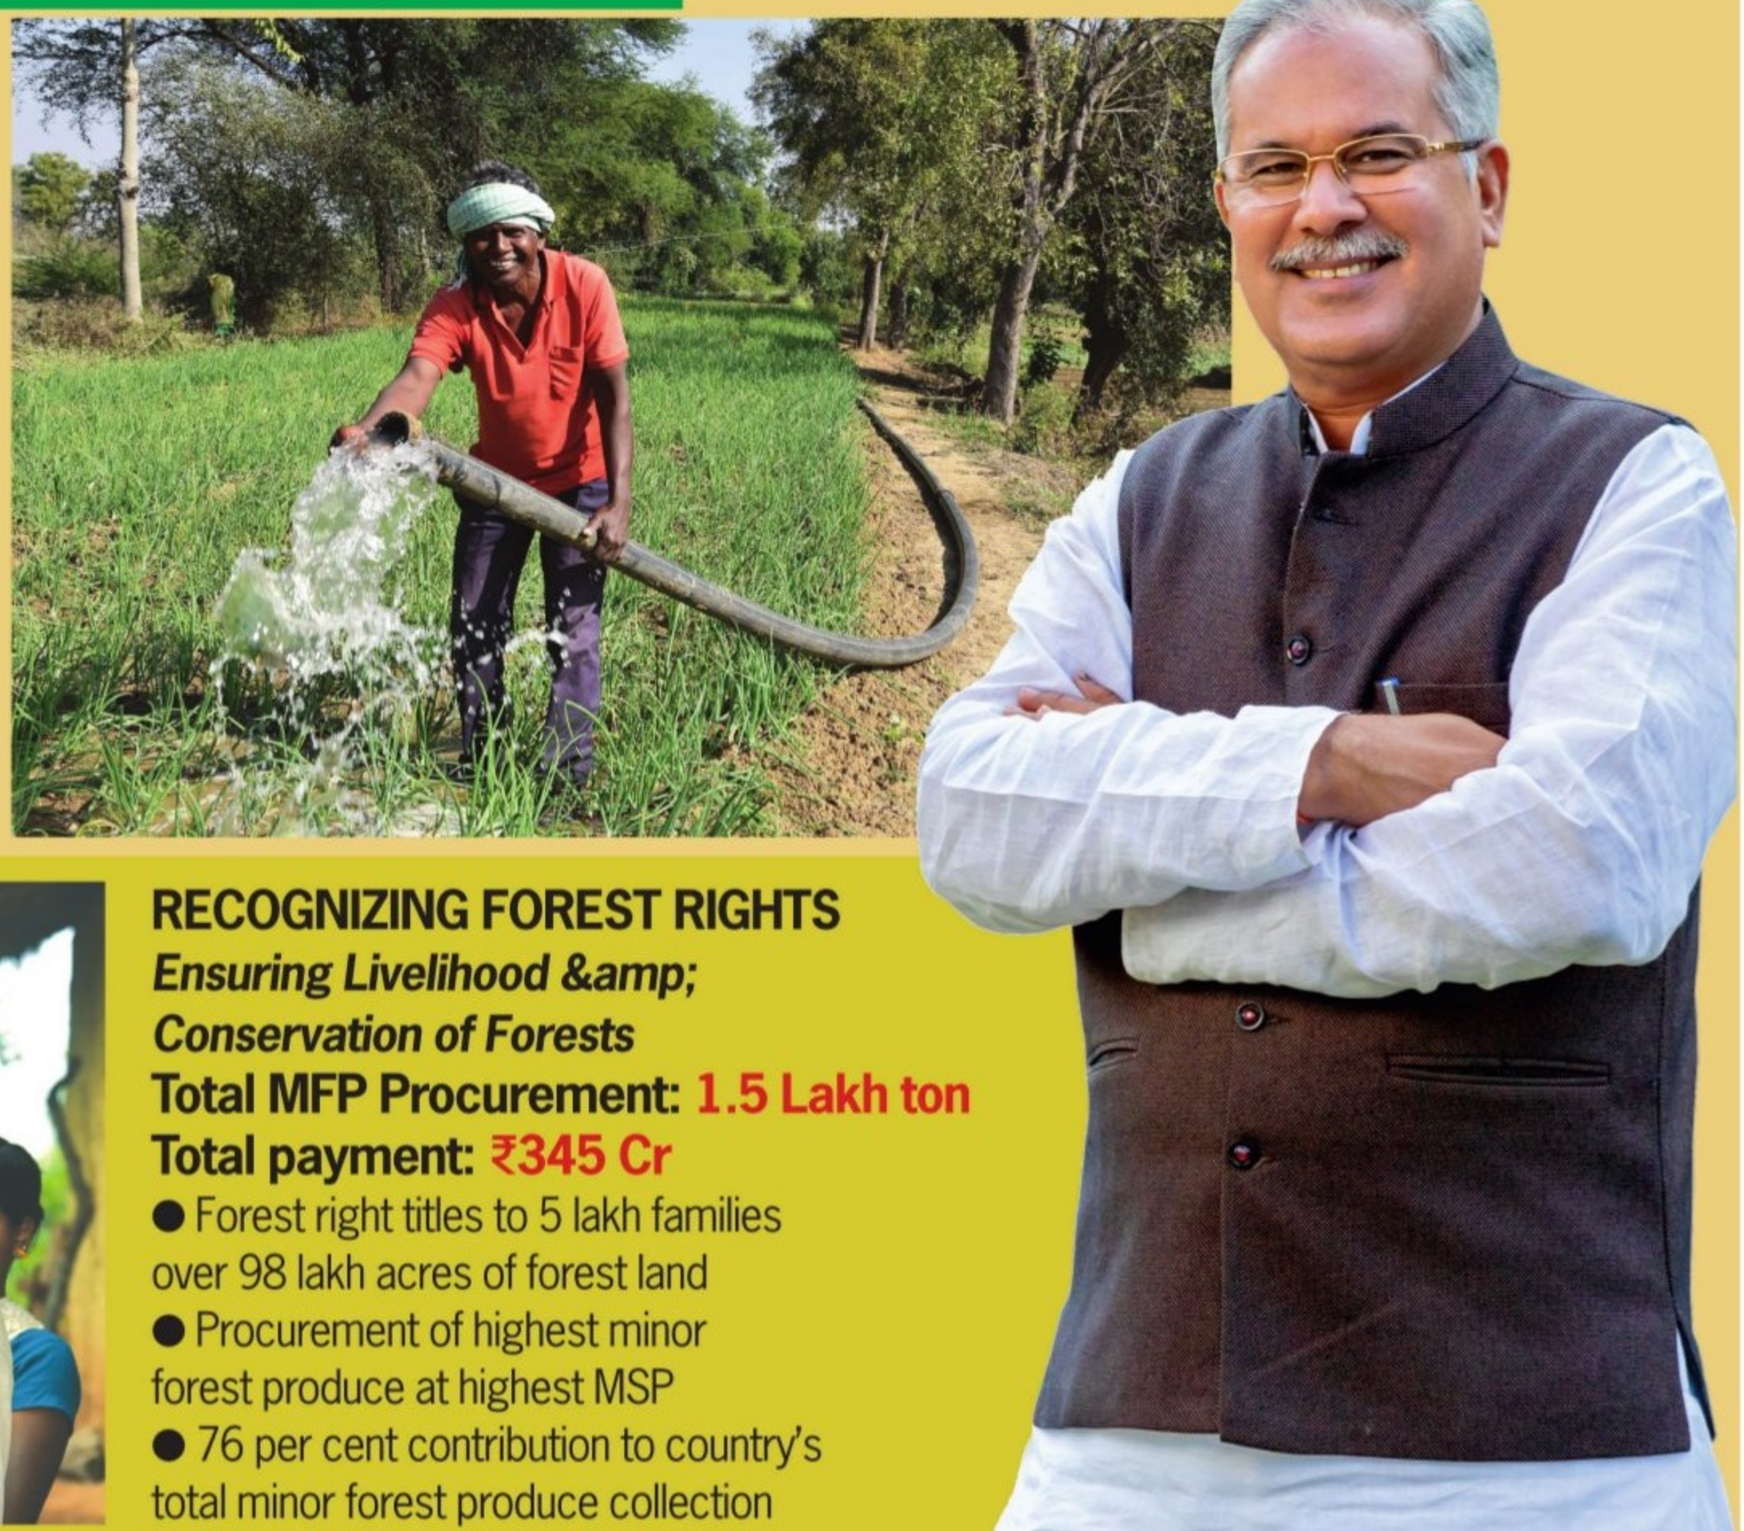
INCENTIVIZING AGRICULTURE

Record Foodgrain Production

Total input subsidy: ₹16,415 Cr

Total number of farmer beneficiaries: ₹25.93 Lakh

- ₹10,000 per acre input subsidy for promoting tree plantation and crop diversification
- Narva scheme, reviving traditional model of water conservation



RECOGNIZING FOREST RIGHTS

Ensuring Livelihood & Conservation of Forests

Total MFP Procurement: 1.5 Lakh ton

Total payment: ₹345 Cr

- Forest right titles to 5 lakh families over 98 lakh acres of forest land
- Procurement of highest minor forest produce at highest MSP
- 76 per cent contribution to country's total minor forest produce collection

COWDUNG AND GAUMUTRA

Revolutionizing Organic Farming

Recycling and reuse is ingrained in our ethos. The cow, for instance, is not only a source of food but also a beloved member of the family. And it is an animal that gives milk; artisanal cheese; cowdung, which is emerging as a source of energy; and gaumutra which is seen as a curative and pesticide by many. This is not merely a way of doing business but it is a way of living, which the Chhattisgarh Government has recognised and elevated, rightly so. When Mahatma Gandhi spoke of Gram Swaraj, this is the vision he had, of a modern, productive unit contributing to India's economy and finding ways to enhance that. There are 3.10 lakh cattle farmers in the state and the total collection of cowdung is 9.48 lakh tons.

105.63 lakh quintal

OLI'S PARTY PULLS OUT OF NEPAL GOVT

Following a rift over backing Nepal's main opposition party's candidate in the presidential poll, former PM K P Sharma Oli's CPN-UML on Monday withdrew its support to Prime Minister Pushpa Kamal Dahal 'Prachanda'-led government, plunging the country into another spell of political instability. The breakup of the alliance may not immediately affect the government as it has the support of at least 141 lawmakers of the 138 needed | P14

THE BJP is likely to maintain its position of dominance in Tripura, Meghalaya and Nagaland, if exit poll figures are anything to go by. The counting of votes is slated for March 2. The exit polls predicted victories for the BJP in Tripura, BJP-NDPP (Nationalist Democratic Progressive Party) combine in Nagaland and edge for the National People's Party (NPP) in Meghalaya.

The BJP, which rules Tripura, is a major constituent of Neiphiu Rio's NDPP-led ruling coalition in Nagaland and a minor component in the NPP-headed six-party ruling coalition in Meghalaya.

Considering that Lok Sabha polls will be held next year, the BJP was desperate to retain power in Tripura. Despite reservation about its success in the state, the party's narrative of development and past failures of Congress and Left governments seemed to have worked with the voters. The BJP had a star-studded campaign with PM Narendra Modi, Union home minister Amit Shah and Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma leading the charge.

In Meghalaya, the contest was between the NPP and the Trinamool Congress, the new player. The BJP is expected to improve upon its 2018 tally of two seats, the poll of polls predicted. The Trinamool invested heavily in the state to dislodge the "corruption-tainted" Conrad K Sangma government. The exit polls predicted the Trinamool picking up 11-12 seats. "Look, if the BJP manages to continue its alliance with NPP, then the ruling coalition could continue. But if it fails, the Trinamool will emerge as the kingmaker," a senior BJP leader remarked.

In Nagaland, the NDPP-BJP combine was expected to capitalise on a moribund Opposition and retain power. The Naga People's Front (NPF), which ruled the state from 2003-18, got disintegrated last year when 21 of its 26 MLAs defected to NDPP. The Congress was a formidable force under ex-CM S C Jamir but got reduced to a shadow of its glorious past in the aftermath of the NPF's emergence 20 years ago. P12

Made-in-India planes not a distant dream: PM

MARX TEJASWI @ Shivamogga

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi said the day is not far when Indian citizens will fly in only Made-in-India passenger aircraft. Addressing a gathering after inaugurating the newly-built Shivamogga Airport at Sogane near here, Modi said the demand for more number of aircraft is increasing by the day and even though the country is importing aeroplanes now, it will soon become self-reliant in manufacturing its own fleet.

The PM spoke in Kannada for a while and raised the slogan, Sirigannadam Gelge, Sirigannadam Balge (Kannada shall triumph and Kannada shall flourish). He also recited the state anthem Jaya Bharata Jananiya Tanujate, Jayahe Karnataka Maate, penned by Rashtrakavi Kuvempu, who hails from Shivamogga district and after whom the state government has proposed to name the new airport.

The PM added that the new airport is going to open doors of development for Shivamogga, the land of nature, culture and agriculture.

Training his guns on the opposition Congress, the PM alleged that the Congress never took any initiative to provide air connectivity to smaller cities. "But, we decided to change this policy. In 2014, there were 74 airports in the country. In just nine years, the BJP government has built 74 more airports," the PM said. P6

BBMP structures sitting on graveyard: Activist

Claims Zameer behind construction, blames Lokayukta's failure

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AN RTI activist has threatened to sit on a dharna against the alleged inaction by the Lokayukta on his complaint against the BBMP, for encroaching a Hindu burial ground and building a sports complex and Palike office at Goripalya, in JJ Nagar ward.

The activist, S Bhaskaran, said he had lodged a complaint with the Lokayukta three months ago but no action has been taken. He said the encroachment and illegal construction by the BBMP was done at the behest of Congress MLA Zameer Ahmed Khan and his follower Altaf Khan, the husband of former BBMP corporator Seema Altaf Khan.

Bhaskaran said that in 2018, a Palike office was built at Property Identification (PID) number 136-10034-115, and now, on PID number 136-10034-117, an indoor stadium is being built at a cost of Rs 1 crore, at the behest of Zameer.

"More than 2,500 graves were destroyed when the land was encroached. I had filed a complaint with the Lokayukta three months ago, and named BBMP Chief Commissioner and BBMP Joint Commissioner (West) as respondents. There is still no response from the Lokayukta," alleged Bhaskaran.

"I have urged the Lokayukta to find the skeletal and mortal remains illegally disposed of to build the sports complex. As per tradition, Hindus come and offer respects to their ancestors annually at the graveyard. What will they do if the final resting place of their loved ones itself is missing?" he argued.

Bhaskaran added that the Lokayukta has asked him to come to his office on March 6. "If the Lokayukta fails to act on this, we will stage a dharna," he said.

WAVE OF PROTESTS

Vet students protest in K'taka too over stipend

DONNA EVA @Bengaluru

OVER 2,000 veterinary students have launched a statewide strike, demanding an increase in stipends.

"We are doctors. Sometimes we are literally on our hands and knees, performing surgeries on cows and other farm animals, and we are getting paid less than daily wage workers," one final-year student from Veterinary College, Hebbal, told TNIE.

There are five government veterinary colleges in the state, coming under the aegis of the Karnataka Veterinary, Animal and Fisheries Sciences University, Bidar. A total of 2,500 students are currently enrolled in these institutions, across Bengaluru, Bidar, Shivamogga, Gadag and Hassan districts.

"This is a five-year course, following which we will spend one year interning, six months in our district and six months out of the districts, of which one month is spent outside the state. For this, we are paid a stipend of Rs 14,000, which is barely enough to cover the travel costs, much less food, accommodation and other miscellaneous needs. We have to borrow money from our parents as well, which has put pressure on them," they said.

The students had been appealing for the last two years for an increase in the stipend to at least Rs 30,000. "We have not been taken seriously and are fed up. Rank-wise, we are equivalent to MBBS students, who are getting paid over Rs 30,000 for their internships. We demand that we be treated the same as we provide a necessary service, especially to farmers in rural areas," they said.

The students said they had sent letters to the Department of Animal Husbandry and Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chauhan several times in the last six months, asking for an increase in stipends.

Currently, around 500 students are protesting in Bengaluru outside the Department of Animal Husbandry, with over 2,000 students protesting across the state. Karnataka is the latest to join the series of vet student protests happening across the country in the last few months.

Pourakarmikas demand regularisation of service of 16,000 civic workers, at BBMP head office in Bengaluru on Monday

Pourakarmikas stage protest, warn of boycotting work

Bengaluru: Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) pourakarmikas on Monday staged a protest at the Palike head office, claiming that the state government had regularised the jobs of ineligible civic workers. Nirmala M, president of BBMP Pourakarmika Association, pointed out that the Chief Minister had promised to regularise the service of contract pourakarmikas, but it was not done. So, they are staging this protest. "In the coming days, all civic workers will stop working and not clear garbage across the city," she said. In July 2022, after a massive protest, the CM announced making 24,000 pourakarmikas across the state permanent. Even the Finance Department had cleared the proposal for 16,000 pourakarmikas. "In the BBMP, 3,300 were recruited and most of them are ineligible and they did not serve even during Covid. Now we want the appointment of 16,000 members, including in BBMP limits," said Nirmala. She also claimed that an official has reached out to them at the head office and asked them to call off the strike, saying that a file was sent to the CM's office in February 22 for recruitment 16,000 members as the Finance Department also has given approval. "We don't believe in such false assurances and so, we will continue our protest on Tuesday," she added. ENS

Indefinite protest by transport workers

Bengaluru: At the end of their tether over just "verbal promises" to their demands, transport employees have decided to go on an indefinite protest in Bengaluru from Wednesday. Members of the Karnataka State Road Transport Employees' League said this time, they will not withdraw their protest till their demands for wage hike among others are not met. "The last wage hike was in 2016, and till now, our salary has not been increased," said Chandrashekar, president of the league. "More than 2,000 employees will take part in a protest at Freedom Park, he said. The members said they have planned the protest in a way that will not affect regular transport. "However, if we do not get any positive reply, then all transport employees will strike work," Chandrashekhar said. ENS

SSLC PREP, ICSE BOARD EXAMINATIONS BEGIN

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

SECONDARY School Leaving Certificate (SSLC) preparatory examinations began across Karnataka on Monday, with students writing their first language examination. SSLC preparatory examinations are taking place at the school level, with each SSLC school acting as a centre, provided they have at least 25 students.

Karnataka State Education and Assessment Board (KSEAB) SADPI (Computer) Gangadharaswamy K M said every eligible student will be writing the preparatory examination, especially as coordination for the examinations is happening at the school level, rather than through KSEAB.

Meanwhile, the Indian Certificate of Secondary Education (ICSE) examinations began on Monday, with students writing the English examination from 11am to 1pm. There are over 200 ICSE-affiliated schools in Karnataka. Students, who were immersed in last-minute revision as they prepared to write the first board exam, later said they found the paper easy to moderately difficult.

The ICSE exams are scheduled to go on till March 29. According to the Council of Indian Certificate of Secondary Education, results will be announced between May and June.

Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) examinations also conducted the English paper on Monday. Examinations began on February 15, with a total of 75,022 CBSE students writing the papers in the state, in around 300 centres. Exams are scheduled to end on March 21.

BANGALORE OPEN

No ramp, disabled tennis lover waits for 5 hrs outside KSLTA

AKNISREEE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

THE Bangalore Open at the Karnataka State Lawn Tennis Association (KSLTA) ended on Sunday, while the fight for an access ramp for the specially-abled at the venue continues.

Sunil Jain, a wheelchair-bound tennis promoter, couldn't watch a match at the Open as there was no ramp for him to reach the gallery. Sunil said he has been demanding it since the last tournament, but it has not been done.

He has filed a complaint with the State Commissioner for Disabilities to penalise KSLTA for lack of services, despite repeated requests, and the emotional trauma he had to undergo. He also requested the commissioner to direct KSLTA to create access to the gallery in the next two months.

"I went to the match at 5.30 pm on Sunday at Gate 2 and found that there was no wheelchair access. I sat in my wheelchair for five hours at the entrance. I refused to be carried as I wish to be independent. All I wanted was access to watch the match like any other person, but my right was denied," said Sunil, Chief Enabler of the Indian Wheelchair Tennis Tour.

He said, "During the last Bangalore Open, I made an oral request to KSLTA to set up a wheelchair access ramp to the gallery. As some renovation works were going on, I thought the construction of wheelchair access could be easily factored in and gave a formal representation on November 30. I booked tickets for the Bangalore Open and checked if there was access, but there was no reply from KSLTA. I went to the venue on Sunday and had to undergo the ordeal."

He added that this is not expected of a sports association like KSLTA and demanded a written apology and action under the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (RPwD) Act, 2016.

Maheshwar Rao, Secretary, KSLTA, told TNIE, "We have been doing many things to improve KSLTA to make it disabled-friendly. I am not aware of the specific incident of Sunil. However, if he was made uncomfortable and denied entry, it is our duty to set things right and provide facilities for him to access. We will address the complaint."

PETER VIDAL

28TH February: Energetic Mars is the big planet this week, mainly because it's taken up a new, bold and brave-hearted position. If you feel a lift in your energy, then you're in tune with the times. But if you're inclined to put your own interests first, or go on a twenty-four hour party, you could be taking it too far!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
If the situation arises, do allow yourself to feel sentimental. The Moon's relationship with an emotional part of your solar horoscope may encourage tears, but they could be for joy as much as for sadness. Don't harden your heart - you'll miss out!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Looking ahead over the next few weeks it is clear that your costs are about to rise. Agreed, you may have one or two accounts to settle, but the dominant message points towards indulgence and luxury. But, then, life must be about pleasure as much as pain!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
You're entering a professional phase during which personal contacts will be increasingly important. Over the next few days, misunderstandings could mar your relationships, so do make an effort to see that everything is crystal clear, even to people who usually misunderstand the simplest things.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's 'all change' in the heavens, with good news and bad over the next eight weeks. On the one hand you'll be attracted towards an increasingly mystical perspective; on the other, you may be vulnerable to vague doubts and suspicions. Try to focus on the facts.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You will soon begin to see dramatic shifts in the planetary alignment, and you may be gripped by a mood of increasing anticipation, perhaps of irritation, possibly of hope. There will undoubtedly be moments when a little self-control will be vital.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
The general situation is quite busy, but you're going to have to be on the ball if you want to avoid being ripped-off or walked on. It's all a matter of knowing when to say 'yes', and when to say 'no'. Of course, that's much easier advice to give than to follow!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
The general celestial emphasis is now moving away from those old family issues, so do move to resolve all unanswered mysteries or unresolved complications. You should make sure that relatives appreciate your finer qualities, even though you might be unwilling to compromise.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Good communication is still of the essence. It looks as if one plan may run into a spot of opposition, but that if you marshal all your facts you may pluck success from the jaws of disaster. Sometimes, though, it's not that easy to find the right words. That shouldn't stop you trying!

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Like everybody else you are going through a few changes. However, in your case money seems to be the crucial factor. The good news now is that you may at last make firm arrangements for future security - and take precautions in case of emotional eruptions.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
The celestial emphasis swings towards thoughts of future prosperity. You may play your cards right and secure all available options, ensuring that you can then make your choices in your own time. Also, feel free to share your real feelings with loved ones.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your stars swing into gambling mode. Emotional risks are as likely as financial ones, which means that romantic riches may be your reward even if a cash bonus does elude you. Close partners may be in a jumpy mood, by the way, so do your best not to provoke.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Venus and Mars occupy emotional positions that will leave you happy to risk a conflict, but far too sensitive to take the consequences. You may decide you've enough on your plate, certainly too much to get involved in a pointless, personal flap.

OWNER OF 28 FLATS IN MARATHAHALLI KILLED BY SON

Had given supari of ₹1 cr, flat each to 2 accused

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a strange twist to the murder of a landlord who was killed while standing in front of his apartment on February 13, the Marathahalli police have arrested the victim's son and two contract killers.

The police said that the 70-year-old N Narayanaswamy, a resident of Indraprastha Apartment in Kaverappa Layout, was murdered as he was trying to register a property in the name of his son's second wife and her daughter. Angry with this, the son gave a supari of Rs 1 crore each and one flat each each to the two accused to eliminate his father. As an advance payment, he had given Rs 1 lakh in cash to them.

The two accused murdered Narayanswamy, who owned 28 flats, on February 13 while he was standing outside his apartment. The son had earlier been arrested in 2013 for murdering his first wife. After coming out of jail, he married another woman and has a daughter from her. The second wife decided to divorce him after coming to know about his illicit relationship with another woman. Narayanaswamy wanted his daughter-in-law and granddaughter to have a source of income and wanted to transfer some property in their names. He was heading to the sub-registrar's office when he was murdered.

The accused have been identified as N Manikanta alias Mani, 30 -- son of Narayanaswamy, T Adarsh alias Benkki (26) of AG Halli in Hosakote and NM Shivakumar alias Naduvathi (24) of Kasaba in Hoskote.

> After the murder attempt on her, Archana decided to divorce Mani. Narayanaswamy tried to stop her, but failed. That was when he decided to give her some property without Mani's knowledge
> Police officer

Mani had also tried to kill his second wife Archana last year after they had an argument over his illicit relationship. The Marathahalli police had registered an attempt-to-murder case and arrested him. During his term in jail, Mani came in contact with Adarsh and Shivakumar, who had been arrested in robbery and other cases.

"After the murder attempt on her, Archana decided to divorce Mani. Narayanaswamy tried to stop her, but failed. That was when he decided to give her some property without Mani's knowledge. When Mani came to know about it, he warned his father against it. When Narayanaswamy did not listen, he gave the supari to get his father killed," said an officer.

Upa Lokayukta seeks explanation on tiger killings in Kodagu

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

TNIE IMPACT

ACTING on the TNIE report titled 'Tiger attack deaths: Suspend forest officials' published on February 14, highlighting the plight of residents of Kodagu, where two people were fatally attacked by a tiger, Upa Lokayukta Justice KN Phaneendra initiated suo motu proceedings against the authorities.

Terming the incidents a result of failure of the forest department, the Upa Lokayukta directed the chief secretary and principal secretary of the department to submit a report on the steps taken to prevent such contingencies, and to safeguard the interest of the public residing near forest areas.

"As could be seen from news published in TNIE, on account of failure on the part of concerned officers of the forest department, the tiger kills two kin in 15 hours, which amounts not only to dereliction of duty but also to maladministration under Section 2(1) of the Karnataka Lokayukta Act," the Upa Lokayukta observed.

For redressal of the grievance, the Upa Lokayukkta impleaded the assistant conservator of forests, deputy conservator of forests and range forest officer of South Kodagu, as respondents, and sought an explanation within four weeks.

"In the Wildlife (Protection) Act, 1972, the powers and functions of Tiger Conservation Authority are clearly laid down. One of the functions is to provide management focus and measures to address conflicts between men and wild animals, and emphasise co-existence in a forest area... it is the duty and obligation of forest officers and state authorities entrusted with the conservation of tigers to take all steps to prevent tiger attack deaths in human habitats," the Upa Lokayukta observed in the order passed on Monday.

Akhanda's sister booked for attempt to murder

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A case of attempt to murder has been registered against the sister of Congress MLA Akhanda Srinivasamurthy and five others at Rajagopala Nagar police station.

Police said the case is registered against the MLA's sister, Chandrakala, and others for allegedly assaulting one, Mahesh, at his residence in Laggere on February 23.

"Mahesh is married to Shilpa, who happens to be a relative of Chandarakala. There were frequent fights between the husband and wife, and Chandrakala and the others had gone to Mahesh's house to resolve the issue," the police said.

"There was a heated argument during the discussion, following which Chandrakala and others attacked Mahesh with lethal weapons. Mahesh is admitted to a hospital and his brother Raju has filed a complaint against Chandrakala, Shilpa, her mother Bhagyamma, Shivamma, Sunitha, and a car driver. The accused are absconding and efforts are on to nab them," the police added.

Three thieves who stole from schools held

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE Jnanabharathi police have arrested three alleged thieves who targeted schools and colleges in the night.

The accused have been identified as Anna Dorai (42), Veeramalai alias Kumar (40) and Babu (34) -- all three hail from Salem district in Tamil Nadu.

Police said a burglary was reported at VSS School in Nagadevanahalli on February 10 and the miscreants had decamped with cash of Rs 5 lakh and some electronic goods. Based on a complaint by the school accountant, an investigation was launched and the accused were traced. "The three accused were arrested and it was revealed that they targeted only schools and colleges. As the admission process generally starts in January, the gang committed burglaries at institutions between January and March. They admitted that they committed such offences since 2001," police added.

Nigerian held for cheating nurse

BENGALURU: A Nigerian, who had cheated a city-based nurse by taking Rs 35 lakh for a job in London, has been arrested by the North East Division Cybercrime Police. The victim is a resident of Bagalur. Unaware of the fraud mail sent by the accused, she sent him cash as she was looking for a job in hospitals abroad. The accused, who was residing in Faridabad, has been identified as Nokocha Kasmir Ikemba.

Woman, young son electrocuted

BENGALURU: A woman and her four-year-old son were electrocuted in Hoskote on Sunday. The deceased are Jyothi (25) and her son, Jayanand. Jyothi and her husband lived in a rented house. She had switched on the water coil heater in the bathroom and was busy with chores on Sunday afternoon. Her son went and touched the heater and was electrocuted. It is suspected that Jyothi went to save him and got electrocuted too.

Man ends life after wife calls cops

BENGALURU: Upset over his wife complaining to the police against him, a 40-year-old drunkard hanged himself in Papareddypalya. The deceased is Mahadev, who lived with his wife, Yashodha. He allegedly came home drunk everyday and harassed her. Fed up, she complained to the police, who went to his house and warned him. "Upset over this, Mahadev hanged himself to a tree near the house on Sunday night," police said.

Cong hates Karnataka, its leaders, says PM

'After Nijalingappa, Veerendra Patil, it's Kharge's turn now; AICC president not offered umbrella'

NAUSHAD BIJAPUR
@ Belagavi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi unleashed a scathing attack on Congress, alleging that it not only hated Karnataka but also insulted several senior and popular leaders of the state, mainly former chief ministers S Nijalingappa and Veerendra Patil in the past and now AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge.

After inaugurating various developmental programmes, including the launch of Jal Jeevan Mission and railway projects in Belgavi on Monday, he said, "Now that I have come to Belgavi, I want to recall incidents to show how Congress hates Karnataka. Insulting leaders of Karnataka has been in Congress' culture. Whenever the Congress parivar finds problems with someone, it starts insulting them."

He said the history is witness to how Congress insulted leaders of repute like Nijalingappa and Veerendra Patil. The people of Karnataka are aware of such incidents. Recently, Kharge was insulted in the presence of the special family of Congress, he added.

"Son of the soil Kharge who served as Parliamentarian for more than five decades is a noted leader from Karnataka and I respect him a lot. The way Kharge was insulted in a recent Congress party session at Chhattisgarh pained me a lot. Such an old leader heading AICC was not offered an umbrella, instead the one (Congress leader Rahul Gandhi) who was standing beside him was given the umbrella. The incident showed how Congress treats its leaders. The entire world knows who has the remote control in Congress," he said.

Now that I have come to Belgavi, I want to recall incidents to show how Congress hates Karnataka. Insulting leaders of Karnataka has been in Congress' culture

Narendra Modi, Prime Minister

Linking the incident to dynastic politics practised by political parties, he said, many parties in the country are caught up in dynastic politics and the country should be freed from it. People should be aware of such parties, he said.

"Congress leaders are upset with me for various reasons, but their plans will never materialise till I am alive. In desperation, Congress leaders are raising slogans like 'Marja Modi Marja Modi' (die Modi die Modi), but the country at the same time is saying 'Modi Tera Kamal Khilega, Modi Tera Kamal Khilega (Modi your lotus will bloom)," he said.

Surjewala raises issues of corruption, jobs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ON a day when Prime Minister Narendra Modi visited Karnataka, AICC General Secretary Randeep Surjewala raised a few questions and demanded answers, on issues ranging from corruption to unemployment.

Listing his concerns, he asked:

- The BJP manifesto made about 600 promises, of which about 10 per cent were fulfilled. How can you be accountable to the people?
- Due to your roadshow, the PU first-year exam to be held in Belagavi was cancelled. Can you explain?
- Recognised Unaided Private School Association, which has 13,000 members, has alleged that without paying 40 per cent bribe, no work gets done in the government
- Unemployment is rampant and there are opportunities to provide 2.5 lakh government jobs and about 7.5 lakh jobs in the private sector. Yet, the BJP government has failed to provide jobs, and there is corruption even for the few jobs available, A former Union minister, a senior MLA and former chief minister's son were accused of masterminding the PSI recruitment scam
- The government has ensured that Visvesvaraya Iron and Steel Factory at Bhadravati, Shivamogga, is permanently locked
- Amit Shah had said an arecanut research centre would be set up in Shivamogga at a cost of about Rs 500 crore. But until now, not even a rupee has been spent.
- Due to the Karnataka-Maharashtra border issue, BJP ministers and MLAs from Maharashtra are causing a rift

Prime Minister Narendra Modi views a scale model of the airport, as CM Basavaraj Bommai and former CM BS Yediyurappa look on, in Shivamogga on Monday | EXPRESS

Modi, Vishwamanava of this decade, says BSY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

SENIOR BJP leader and Lingayat strongman BS Yediyurappa, who is bidding adieu to electoral politics, turned emotional on his 80th birthday while being felicitated by Prime Minister Narendra Modi here on Monday.

"Modi had told me that the inauguration of the Shivamogga airport had to happen on my birthday and he would be there to do the honours, and he has kept up his words," he said.

Yediyurappa said he started his political journey way back in 1970. "It was the blessings of people of Shikaripura that made me an MLA and to assume many political responsibilities, including the chief minister's post. I have served as an MLA, MLC and MP. I contested the Lok Sabha election in 2014 after Modi asked me to. I won with a thumping margin of over 3.5 lakh votes."

He said, "In my political journey of 50 years, I was in power for just seven years. I worked on the ideology of social justice and 'Sarvarigu Samapalu, Sarvarigu Samabalu' (equal share for all, equal life for all). It could happen because of Modi's blessings."

Mentioning the concept of Vishwamanava (global citizen), envisioned by poet laureate Kuvempu, Yediyurappa said Modi is the only Vishwamanava of the decade, making the rest of the world realise what Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam (all living beings are a family) means.

He said that in November 2004, then President APJ Abdul Kalam, while addressing a joint session of the legislature in the state, presented the concept of PURA - Provision of Urban amenities in Rural Areas. It was made possible by the double engine government under Modi's leadership.

He said, "My 80th birthday is special because of the presence of Modi. Former Prime Minister Atal Behari Vajpayee attended my 60th birthday celebrations in Bengaluru. Vajpayee had told me that he did not attend such birthday celebrations, but mine was an exception. I still cherish that moment."

Airport a new chapter for S'mogga, says PM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

"KARNATAKA is now in an era of development because of the double engine government, which has enhanced the pace of growth. We are marching ahead by building roadways, railways, airways and digital connectivity," said Prime Minister Narendra Modi here on Monday.

Dedicating the newly built Shivamogga airport to the nation, he said development has reached villages which was earlier restricted to big cities. The Shivamogga airport has opened a new chapter in the development of Malnad. Along with new railway connectivity to Shikaripura and Ranebennuru, it could open up new markets for valuable agricultural produce from the region. There will also be more employment opportunities as Shivamogga, which is also an education hub, has been provided with connectivity and infrastructure, he said.

Modi began his speech in Kannada by addressing the audience as "Karnatakada Sahodara Sahodariyare..." He continued with "Sirigannadam Elge, Sirigannadam Balge".

Wishing former chief minister BS Yediyurappa on his 80th birthday, Modi said, "Today is a special day for Karnataka as the great leader of the state, Yediyurappa, who has served for the welfare of farmers, was born on this day. His life is a great motivation for the coming generation."

He called upon people to greet Yediyurappa by switching on the flashlight of their mobile phone and waving it.

BSY COUGHS, PM RUSHES GUARD TO HIS HELP

Former chief minister BS Yediyurappa, who was emotional at the inauguration of the Shivamogga airport on his birthday, called upon the audience to respond to the call, 'Bolo Bharat Maata Ki.. Jai'. As he was shouting it, he started coughing. While his son BY Raghavendra and former minister KS Eshwarappa rushed to the backstage to get him water, Prime Minister Narendra Modi asked his bodyguard to give water to Yediyurappa

Those who wear chappals too should fly: Modi

"SMALLER cities have modern airports. We decided that even those who wear hawai chappals (slippers) should travel by air. Hence, we launched the UDAN scheme to ensure affordable air travel for poor people," the PM said.

He added that before 2014, Air India was in the news for all the wrong reasons. "Under Congress rule, Air India was known for scams and its loss-making business model. Now, it is recognised as the potential of new India where it is soaring to new heights of success," he said.

Modi also laid foundation stones for multiple development projects being built at a cost of Rs 3,600 crore in Shivamogga on Monday

"Shivamogga airport is inaugurated at a time when the demand for air travel is at an all-time high in India. You might have noticed that Air India completed a deal to purchase the largest passenger aircraft in the world," he said.

He added that the expanding aviation market in the country will generate many jobs for the youth.

S'mogga to see int'l flights in 2 yrs: CM

A view of the terminal of the new Shivamogga Airport | EXPRESS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Shivamogga

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Monday said that the Shivamogga Airport will be developed as an international airport in two years, besides opening opportunities for developing various sectors. He also showered praises on former CM B S Yediyurappa for his commitment to farmers and the poor.

Addressing the programme organised to inaugurate the Shivamogga Airport at Sogane near here on Monday, Bommai said the district will benefit in terms of trade and commerce, agricultural and industrial development and generation of employment thanks to the newly built airport.

"Shivamogga Airport will connect every corner of the country. In just two years, it will emerge as an international airport," he said, adding that over 30 airports were inaugurated after 2014 and 10-15 more will be inaugurated soon. More airports were built after 2014, than since Independence. Also, medical colleges, drinking water connections to households, toilets and houses for the poor have multiplied after Narendra Modi became the prime minister.

The CM said that India is hosting the G20 meet in the country under the chairmanship of Modi. "Karnataka is attracting the highest investment and is leading in technology and innovation, besides socially. Vijayapura airport is all set for inauguration. The work at Hassan airport is going on. Karwar airport is also set for operation. More airports are coming up in Raichur, Koppal and Davanagere. Six thousand km of highways have been sanctioned in the last five years and Rs 64,000 crore is also approved, of which, the PM has released Rs 34,000 crore," he said. On March 11, the new Bengaluru-Mysuru highway is being inaugurated apart from the IIT campus in Dharwad, and the same is the contribution of the double-engine government, he added.

Bommai said that Yediyurappa was severely assaulted in the early days of his political life. "He faced several difficulties, but did not give up. He came back for the service of the people and won a place in their hearts. From being a municipal member to the CM, he was elected from the Shikaripura Assembly constituency seven times. He fought for farmers, bagair hukum land tillers and for irrigation. When he came to power, he fulfilled the demands for which he had fought in the past," he said, listing out several welfare schemes Yediyurappa announced.

My last election, need rest: HDK

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CLOSE on the heels of former chief minister B S Yediyurappa declaring retirement from electoral politics, former chief minister and JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy on Monday said that the 2023 Assembly polls would be his last.

"I will not contest the Assembly polls in 2028, as I am exhausted with politics and need rest. But I will never quit active politics as I will field an ordinary worker from the Channapatna Assembly constituency," he said at a Bamul utsav, organised by Bangalore Milk Union Limited in Channapatna.

In 2018, he had contested from both Ramanagara and Channapatna Assembly constituencies and quit the former constituency for his wife Anitha Kumaraswamy, who eventually won the seat in the by-polls. In the coming polls, his son Nikhil Kumaraswamy is likely to contest from Ramanagara, which means that both father and son will be contesting from constituencies adjacent to each other.

The 63-year-old film producer-turned-politician and younger son of former prime minister H D Deve Gowda has been found travelling the length and breadth of the state through his 'Pancharatna' campaign ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls.

DR G'S RIVALS PLAY DIRTY, SUPPORTERS FILE POLICE COMPLAINT

BENGALURU: Supporters of former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara on Monday filed complaints with the Koratagere police and also the CEN police in Bengaluru, and a private complaint in court for further action. Detractors of Parameshwara have allegedly uploaded personal information about his daughter on social media, in a bid to embarrass the Congress leader. This comes as a personal challenge to Parameshwara, in the run-up to assembly polls in the state. One of his staunch supporters, Somashekar BN, filed a private complaint with a metropolitan court in Bengaluru on February 21, as personal details about his daughter have been put on social media since December 29, 2022, including YouTube, Facebook and six channels. "They have created fake accounts and uploaded content concerning Shana Parameshwara in order to politically embarrass the leader," he stated. Cybercrime police have are investigatng. Meanwhile, his supporter Raghuveer lodged a complaint at Koratagere police station. "People from rival parties have been doing this for some time, and have stopped after we lodged a complaint," he said. Parameshwara's son had undergone sex change surgery some years ago. ENS

Cong may have to worry about SDPI eating into minority vote share

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

EVEN as Congress is focussing on reaching the 113-mark in the Assembly, one party has been giving it sleepless nights. No, it is not BJP, but SDPI.

The Social Democratic Party of India, which contested a mere three seats in 2018, has named 11 candidates and is looking to put up 40-50 contestants to corner minority votes.

The SDPI move is likely to directly affect Congress, which took a lion's share of minority votes last time. A few days ago, SDPI was talking about contesting from around 100 seats, which obviously worried Congress.

There have been instances where SDPI has affected Congress calculations. Like in the Chickpet Assembly segment, where Mujahid Pasha from SDPI contested in 2018 and took away 11,700 votes, constituting 9.08 per cent of the vote share. This left Congress' RV Devaraj with only 49,378 votes or 38.3 per cent, allowing BJPs Uday Garudachar to romp home with 57,000 votes. Another case is that of 26 seats in the Madikeri Municipal Corporation, where SDPI has five members, Congress just one and BJP 16.

We have seen Congress has not fought for many minority issues

EM Thumbe, national general secretary, SDPI

Apart from SDPI, Congress also has to worry about the challenge thrown by JDS and the AIMIM. JDS, which poached senior Congress leader CM Ibrahim, has been working hard to put up more Muslim candidates hoping to garner minority votes.

SDPI national general secretary EM Thumbe said, "We have seen Congress has not fought for many minority issues."

The Centre's ban on Popular Front of India (PFI), the ideological arm of SDPI, and charges of it being too radical may have an impact on its poll prospects. Also, many PFI and SDPI members were blamed for the DJ Halli riots and some are still behind bars.

150 road shows, 8k km: BJP's Vijay Sankalpa Yatra from March 1

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

AIMING to touch four crore people across 224 Assembly constituencies, BJP is all set to launch its Vijay Sankapla Yatra from four different directions across the state from March 1. Four teams each headed by senior state and central BJP leaders are expected to undertake more than 150 road shows and traverse 8,000 km.

While the yatra will conclude on March 20, a mega convention will be held in Davanagere on March 25, which Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Union Home Minister Amit Shah are likely to attend, where over 10 lakh people are expected to participate.

Former minister KS Eshwarappa, former chief minister Jagadish Shettar, Irrigation Minister Govind Karjol and Revenue Minister R Ashoka will lead each team from Chamarajanagar, Belagavi, Bidar and Bengaluru. Former chief minister BS Yediyurappa and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will also join the yatra.

Four buses, 30 ft in height and eight ft in width, have been specially designed for the yatra. The AC buses will also have a place on the top where the leaders can stand and deliver speeches. There will be a place to charge mobiles, home theatre, audio systems, cameras, LED display, and wifi facility and a generator for power backup.

Speaking to TNIE, BJP state general secretary, MLC N Ravikumar, who is also the joint convenor for the yatra, said they will cover 31 districts in 20 days. "Our target is 150 seats, and we will achieve it," he said. During the yatra, each team will also visit mutts, temples and other prominent places in their area. During the event, leaders from other parties might also join BJP.

PG student was murdered: Kin

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Jangaon

Family members of the first-year post-graduate student Dr Dharawath Preethi on Monday alleged that she was murdered in cold blood.

Her father Narender, sister Pooja, and brother Vamshi said that she had been murdered by her seniors in MGM Hospital, in Warangal. They alleged that she was mentally tortured by isolating her from the rest of her colleagues during duty hours.

Pooja alleged that her sister Dr Preethi was forcibly injected with harmful medicine and suspected the involvement of at least three to four persons in killing her, and ruled out the suicide theory. She said it was a cold-blooded and premeditated murder by her seniors. She said that Dr Saif, the main accused in the case, had been harassing her since December 6, 2022.

Preethi's father Narender alleged that his daughter was not so weak to end her life. She even worked under trying circumstances like when Covid-19 was spreading fast. She worked in a private hospital in Hyderabad and ESI Hospital, without any fear of the pandemic, he said.

'No one will be spared'

Urban Development Minister KT Rama Rao said the government won't spare anyone, "be it a Sanjay or a Saif" if he is found to have abetted the suicide of PG medical student Dr Dharawath Preethi. He said that BRS government, unlike BJP, does not look at everything through the prism of caste and religion and it is on the side of justice.

Voters queue up at a polling booth to exercise their franchise during Erode East constituency bypoll in Erode on Monday | EXPRESS

Erode East bypoll turnout nearly 75%, peaceful

Erode: Nearly 75 per cent of the 2.27 lakh voters cast their votes in the Erode East by-election in Tamil Nadu on Monday and the polling exercise was peaceful, authorities said. Chief Electoral Officer, Satyabrata Sahoo said the polling percentage till 6pm stood at 74.69 per cent. While 77 candidates are in fray, the battle is likely confined between the Congress and AIADMK. Voting began at 7am and ended at 6pm.

K'taka eyes NZ model for 'tobacco-free gen' by 2025

AKNISREE KARTHIK @ Bengaluru

TAKING a cue from New Zealand, which has passed a new law that prohibits anyone who is born after 2008 from buying cigarettes or tobacco products, the state health department is coming up with a similar model for Karnataka to create a tobacco-free generation by 2025. As a result, as the years pass, only fewer people will be able to buy tobacco and pave the way for a tobacco-free generation.

The State Tobacco Control Cell, a wing of the health department, has prepared a roadmap. According to its vision, all those born in and after 2007 cannot have access to any tobacco products across Karnataka.

"The legal age for tobacco use is 18. Those born in and after 2007 will attain 18 years by 2025. We want to build a society where tobacco products are inaccessible even after 18 years. For example, a 2007-born will attain 23 years in 2030, but he cannot purchase tobacco. So as years pass, the number of tobacco users will come down," said a source, who is aware of the initiative.

The source said that the whole idea is to put an end to easy access to tobacco by children who experiment with it and get addicted. "Majority of the tobacco-users pick the habit in their childhood and teenage. As per the Global Adult Tobacco Survey 2, in Karnataka, 22.8 per cent of adults (approx 2.5 crore) use tobacco products. Youths are the wealth of our nation and this tobacco-free generation initiative is to address the root cause of the easy availability of tobacco to children," the source said.

B'luru-Mysuru e-way toll likely to be ₹255 one-way

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE toll for the entire stretch of Bengaluru-Mysuru Expressway is likely to be around Rs 255 one-way for cars and the toll collection is likely to start from March-end. At the same time, the half-toll collection of Rs 135 for cars from Bengaluru till Maddur that was to start from Tuesday has been postponed.

The 118km highway, where works in only small stretches have remained, will have two toll-collection points. The toll from Bengaluru and Maddur will be Rs 135, and from Maddur to Mysuru it will be Rs 120. As there has been a backlash from people over the toll being high, official sources pointed out that the National Highways Authority of India guidelines specify the fee at Rs 3 per km. On NICE Road, people are paying Rs 6 per km, whereas on the Bengaluru-Mysuru highway, it will be around Rs 2.5 per km.

The sources said the half-toll collection from Tuesday has been deferred as service roads for two and three-wheelers are not ready yet. "These vehicles are not allowed on the highway, and also, they cannot be charged for using the highway. The NHAI has, therefore, decided to postpone levying the fee. The service roads are not ready yet as there have been issues over acquisition of land," they added.

PM Narendra Modi will inaugurate the expressway on March 11, and from March 15, the collection of half-toll for the stretch between Bengaluru and Maddur will begin.

The 118-km highway, from NICE Road entrance in Bengaluru to the Ring Road Junction in Mysuru, has reduced the travel time by half to just 90 minutes.

300-km padayatra to flag drinking water woes

MOHAMMED YACOOB @ Bengaluru

ENVIRONMENTAL activist Anjaneya Reddy has said that he will take out a padayatra to highlight the issue of scarcity of drinking water in Bengaluru Rural, Chikkaballapura and Kolar districts from March 3. He said that the yatra, covering 300 km, will conclude in Kolar on March 12.

Talking to TNIE, Reddy, president, Shaswata Neeravari Horata Samiti, alleged that no political party in Karnataka has solved the drinking water issue in these three districts. He said this yatra aims to raise awareness among voters in these segments to put pressure on political leaders to incorporate the drinking water issue into their election manifestos. Reddy said, "In the run-up to the state Assembly elections, our one-point agenda is to demand clean drinking water for residents and water for farm fields".

Reddy said, groundwater from borewells is the main source of drinking water in districts but it is not safe for drinking, according to a report released by the Department of Mines and Geology in 2012. The preliminary report of the Ettinahole project is flawed and water cannot be supplied to the rural districts of Kolar, Chikkaballapur and Bengaluru, said the Central Water Commission in 2012. Water treated in the second phase of the KC Valley and HN Valley projects is being discharged into lakes, causing cancer and kidney diseases in people and livestock, another report said. "These are the issues that we want people to debate and discuss and make political parties accountable", said Reddy.

Amid rift and cold war, Shah calls meeting of T'gana BJP leaders today

IREDDY SRINIVAS REDDY @ Hyderabad

UNION Home Minister Amit Shah has summoned Telangana BJP leaders to New Delhi for an important meeting focused on strengthening the party, resolving internal issues and addressing the cold war between key leaders. The meeting, which is scheduled for 12 pm on Tuesday, has generated interest within the saffron party's state unit.

The BJP has been conducting street corner meetings at every booth, totalling almost 7,500 in the state. The leaders have expressed happiness that the party cadre has been energised by these meetings. At this juncture, the meeting called by Shah has also aroused curiosity about whether state unit chief Bandi Sanjay Kumar will continue till the elections are over. It must be noted that BJP Telangana in-charge and party general secretary Tarun Chugh has recently denied rumours of any proposed change.

Saffron party leaders anticipate that the upcoming meeting with Shah is of great significance, even though they are also expected to attend the closing ceremony of the street corner meetings, which is also important. However, the Shah meeting takes precedence. Apart from Sanjay Kumar, Union Culture and Tourism Minister G Kishan Reddy, party's OBC Morcha president and Rajya Sabha MP K Laxman, Huzurabad MLA Eatala Rajender and party national vice-president DK Aruna and other delegates are expected to meet Amit Shah on Tuesday.

The arrest of Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia has further sparked political curiosity in the State regarding the upcoming meeting of state leaders with Shah. This curiosity is further fueled by allegations of involvement in the Delhi Liquor scam against BRS MLC and CM K Chandrasekhar Rao's daughter K Kavitha. Additionally, former MP and senior BJP leader Vivek Venkataswamy, on Monday, made sensational comments suggesting that Kavitha may soon be arrested in connection with the Delhi Liquor scam.

On the other hand, the party has been closely monitoring the activities of its leaders in the state, given the ongoing cold war between them. The party leadership has received reports that certain leaders have been meeting with prominent personalities in the state, which is a matter of concern for the party.

Polls for 3 MLCs under MLA quota on March 23

Hyderabad: The Election Commission of India on Monday released schedule for conducting elections to three MLC seats under MLAs quota. The tenure of three BRS MLCs Alimineti Krishna Reddy, Gangadhar Goud Vullolla and Naveen Kumar Kurmaiahgari ends on March 29. The election notification for these seats will be issued on March 6. The last date for filing of nominations is March 13. Polling, if necessary will be held between 9 am to 4 pm on March 23 and counting of votes will take place on the same day.

LIFE Mission: ED to issue fresh summons after Raveendran skips interrogation

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kochi

THE chief minister's additional private secretary C M Raveendran did not turn up before ED which had summoned him for interrogation on Monday in the money laundering case in the Wadakancherry LIFE mission project.

In an emial to the ED's Kochi unit on Sunday night, Raveendran informed the agency that since the state assembly was in session he could not turn up for interrogation, and requested the agency to excuse his absence. He was present in the assembly in Thiruvananthapuram on the day.

The ED felt that the reason cited by Raveendran was "insufficient". It will issue a fresh summons to him. ED officials said assembly session cannot be a ground to put a hold investigation of a money laundering case. The investigation has entered its prime phase and Raveendran's interrogation is vital to proceed further. "We have decided to issue a fresh summons to him. It will be issued in the coming days. His interrogation has to be conducted soon," ED sources said.

Earlier, ED had to issue summons four times to Raveendran to appear for interrogation in the gold smuggling case. He had then cited Covid as the reason for not turning up before the probe team in December 2020. ED claims it is in possession of evidence suggesting Raveendran was aware of the project. The agency says it has unearthed WhatsApp chats of other accused Swapna Suresh and Sivasankar about the involvement of Raveendran.

SC/ST T'gana Congneta likely to be inducted into CWC

In the light of a recent amendment to the party's constitution paving for provision of 50 per cent reservation for SCs, STs, OBCs, minorities and women in the Congress Working Committee (CWC), a leader from SC or ST community is most likely to be inducted into the Congress' highest decision making body. As the grand old party has increased the number of members of CWC to 35 from 23, Telangana leaders from marginalized communities have improved their chances of being shortlisted for the party working committee. The senior leaders particularly from dominant castes like K Jana Reddy, N Uttam Kumar Reddy, Komatireddy Venkat Reddy, V Hanumantha Rao, Ponnala Lakshmaiah, Ali Shabbir, Mallu Ravi, KVP Ramachander Rao, Ponnam Prabhakar, and J Geeta Reddy also have high hopes of making it to CWC. However, if the sources were to be believed, either CLP leader Mallu Bhatti Vikramarka, who hails from the SC community, or MLA Dansari Anasuya, also known as Seethakka, who is from the ST community, is very likely to get into the CWC. Their age factor and by virtue of being members of State legislative body, they stand better chance of an added advantage to them. "Inducting Seethakka, a strong leader from the Adivasi community would send a political message to the marginalised," said a senior leader.

Poachgate: TS questions transfer of case to CBI

SHRUTI KAKKAR @NewDelhi

QUESTIONING High Court's order of transferring the investigation into the BRS MLAs poaching case to CBI, the government of Telangana on Monday informed the Supreme Court that CBI in past has only been ordered to investigate when there is involvement of State police in the crime and not otherwise.

Terming the consequences of transferring the case to CBI which is under BJP's control as serious, senior advocate Dushyant Dave told the bench headed by Justice BR Gavai that the order "goes to the heart of democracy." "If CBI is allowed to investigate, then that would be a grave miscarriage of justice," Dave added.

"BJP itself, at two stages, said that they don't want CBI investigation. There is a record of it. There was also no evidence that SIT investigation was interfered with in any way. I respectfully submit that this matter should be finally heard. It's very serious. Goes to the heart of democracy. BJP is in power at the Centre, it is accused. How can CBI investigate? Where is question of CM interfering with investigation? They have sought to bring down his government by illegal means. How did he interfere by holding press conference? You can make allegations, but those allegations need to be substantiated on rational grounds. We are a regional party, BJP is a national party trying to destabilise. All members of opposition party are in jail," Dave submitted.

Terming HC's order of allowing SIT to investigate under court's monitoring as "fair", Dave further said: "It cannot go to CBI. How can CBI investigate? In every case, the investigation agency will come on TV to discuss everything. This has become order of the day. Take example of arrest of Mr Sisodia," Dave said. "SIT has a right. It is where the offence has been committed. There can be court monitoring. How many cases coming from (BJP ruled States) are transferred to CBI? How many of them are transferred back to State police?" he said.

NO END TO SPAT

FANS OF IAS OFFICER SINDHURI PROTEST AGAINST ALLEGATIONS WITH 'MISSING ITEMS'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mysuru

THERE seems to be no end to the spat between IAS officer Rohini Sindhuri and IPS officer Roopa as several fans and followers of Sindhuri staged a unique protest in front of the Administrative Training Institute (ATI) here on Monday.

Among many complaints and allegations made by IPS officer Roopa against Sindhuri, one was regarding a letter by the ATI director sent to the DC, alleging that items had gone missing during her brief stay on the ATI premises. Sindhuri was then a resident on the premises when she was the DC of Mysuru.

Several followers of Sindhuri had gathered in front of the ATI premises along with items, which the authorities have accused of being missing after Sindhuri's stay, like glasses, pillow, utensils and other things. The agitators, who called themselves fans and followers of the IAS officer, raised slogans in favour of Sindhuri and urged the authorities to take away those items instead of making false allegations against Sindhuri.

Thejas, an agitator, said, "There have been many speculations and allegations against Rohini Sindhuri, who is known for her able administration. She has been unnecessarily targeted and allegations of taking away the items have been dragged to tarnish her reputation. As her fans, we have brought the same items, alleged to be missing, and urge the authorities to take them instead of making false charges," he said.

However, the protest ended in 15 minutes and the police cleared the agitators, who had not obtained permission to sit on a dharna.

Meanwhile, supporters of IPS officer Roopa said the protest comes as their first victory. They said Sindhuri's supporters have indirectly claimed responsibility for the missing items by trying to hand them back to the ATI authorities.

NAVEEN PATNAIK SERVES PLEASE-ALL BUDGET FOR 2024 POLL BATTLE

Odisha government's last full budget before the 2024 electoral battle is big in size and intentions. At ₹2.3 lakh crore, the budget marks a 15% jump in size over the current fiscal which is in sync with the state's stated objective of growing at 8%, tracking ahead of the national average in the next financial year. Its programme expenditure is projected to rise by 25%. The budget is clearly focused on priority sector commitments with a clear eye on the upcoming polls. The Odisha Budget 2023–24, presented by Finance Minister Niranjan Pujari late last week, came with 20 new initiatives with a total outlay of over ₹7,200 crore. From a ₹50 crore electric scooter scheme for women self-help groups under Mission Shakti to a ₹120 crore livelihood initiative for the tribal groups, it had a definitive targeting of the ruling BJD's core voter base while attempting to make inroads into BJP's base, respectively.

The budget makes a sumptuous ₹6,224 crore allocation for Mission Shakti and Women and Child Development, giving the two departments a 12% higher provisioning than the current fiscal. Women are the key constituents of Naveen's voter base, and the budget remains committed to their cause. Then there is the provision of ₹100 crore for direct international air connectivity to the state, which clearly articulates that the government is aware of a modern, young Odisha's aspirations.

At a macro view, this year's budget goes big on social and infrastructure spending. Health gets a hefty 27% higher allocation at ₹16,048 crore, while piped water supply has witnessed the highest increase of 58% with an outlay of over ₹13,215 crore. Investment in road, air and railway infrastructure is pegged at ₹19,452 crore. Education and skilling, industries and disaster management retain much focus. So does the agriculture and allied sector, which has been allocated over ₹24,000 crore in the budget. Not to mention sports which, with an outlay of ₹1,217 crore, will consolidate the state's positioning as the new sports hub of India. Much of the flexibility in budgeting can be attributed to the sharp public finance management of the Naveen Patnaik government, which has put Odisha Fiscal Responsibility and Budget Management (FRBM) Act 2005 to excellent implementation and lifted the state out of the morasses of debt in the early 2000s to the current high-revenue stage. A please-all poll budget, it stays the course too.

ALERTNESS, TACT MUST DEFINE STATE RESPONSE

Let us not talk about a bunch of people demanding Khalistan as if it is an everyday routine by a street-corner gang. The call goes against the sovereignty of the country and has seditious connotations. It has to be taken seriously. Provided, of course, there is conclusive evidence that those espousing the cause in Punjab currently are serious and have public backing. That is the first thing the Central and state intelligence agencies need to confirm, as also check if they have the support of external agents. India has gone through this route before, paying the price. We can only learn from past mistakes. This time, the people of Punjab, especially the Sikhs, have shown no inclination to support the separatist demand. They are eager to claim a floating population of riff-raff gangs all over the state, trying to piggyback on causes not their own, like the farmers' agitation last year, and create mayhem. This time, in the case of the ruckus caused by Amritpal Singh and his cohorts, it went a bit out of control. Singh appears to follow his principle of gate crashing and overwhelming the police with strong picketing. That is what he did at Ajnala police station near Amritsar, where a vociferous crowd gathered demanding the release of Singh's aide. The crowd carried the Palki Sahib of Sri Guru Granth Sahib as a shield to break the barricade.

The AAP government in Punjab did the right thing, using tact to defuse a possibly calamitous situation if something were to happen to the holy book by freeing Singh's aide. That the police maintained calm even though sections of the crowd brandished swords and guns and shouted provocative slogans is laudable. They remained cool despite six police officials getting hurt in the melee. The crowd dispersed.

There was a quick realisation among the Sikhs that Amritpal Singh did wrong by using the holy book as a shield which showed his intentions were not innocent. The state government can now do the necessary policing to study the antecedents of Singh and his patrons if any. It must monitor the movement of Singh and his gang and ensure they do not play with law and order again. Notwithstanding the bickering between the BJP and AAP on the issue, Central and state intelligence agencies need to work together and exchange notes to be on the same page when monitoring the gang's activities.

QUICK TAKE

EASE OF ARBITRATION

The government is pushing digital infrastructure to revamp arbitration processes as one of the efforts to promote India as a future global economic hub. The aim is to include Delhi's name in international arbitration centres like Paris, New York, Geneva, Hong Kong, Singapore and London. Businesses prefer arbitration because it is cheaper, private and less time-consuming than litigation. The government must develop credible institutional arbitration bodies at par with reputed institutions abroad. Doing away with ad hoc arbitration can give foreign companies having business contracts with Indian companies the choice of going in for arbitration of their disputes in India.

WHY THE INDIAN MANAGER TASTES SWEETER SUCCESS

HARISH BIJOOR

Brand Guru and Founder, Harish Bijoor Consults Inc

The big news of the week is the nomination of Indian-American Ajay Banga by the President of the United States of America to be the next head of the World Bank. A moment of celebration then. Never mind whether it is in the realm of science, music, art, academics, management or governments, the Indian or someone with a link to India (even a tenuous one), is making it big globally.

In sheer number terms this should not be a surprise at all. India has 1.4 billion people (and represents 17.5% of the global population), so it is only natural that Indians who have left the country will shine wherever they are. Sheer jingoism and number logic apart, there are real reasons why the Indian does well when he, she or they go overseas. I am going to try and isolate these reasons objectively, without letting India-love cloud my judgement. Some of these will seem hard and judgmental, but so be it.

For the purpose of this exploration I am calling these successes all across to be successes of good "managers". At the end of the day, everyone in every realm (whether it is art or business) is a manager for a start. In this exercise of isolating reasons for the Indian manager's success overseas, I have a total of 18 points to make. I will end up making only five for the moment. The top five as I see them to be:

The suppressed Indian

Suppression is my big theme. Suppression has been a big common element in Indian life. This "S" word has ruled over us for a long time. It is only now that we see it loosening a bit.

Suppression has been the big theme, with invaders taking over our territories and our Maharajas of yore. It has equally ruled our early existence under British rule. It has continued to rule with systems and processes that we have lived with over decades, even after Independence. Our textbooks, which we use even to this date in our schools, continue to tell us the same. Suppressed is a state of mind, and the Indian has been exposed to it for decades.

Suppression has several avatars. Power suppression, availability suppression, exposure suppression and opportunity suppression are phrases we have felt strongly in Indian life. Add to it gender suppression and we have the panchatantra of suppression.

An Indian manager who has gone through this panchatantra is all the more stronger. The Indian who has stood in queues to get his supplies, faced shortages of basic items such as sugar, rice and wheat, and has actually waited five years to get his favourite scooter allocated in his name, is stronger than them all. The Indian manager, therefore, has the ability never to take things for granted. He has seen the tough times, and when prosperity rains on him, he is still keeping that umbrella open for the rainy day. Like all of us do.

SOUMYADIP SINHA

A pressure-cooker environment

Pressure is something that is normal. It starts in the Indian home early on. We live within small confines. A family is a family. The strong bonds that connect, equally transfer pressures from one to another subliminally. If one sneezes, the other catches Covid. Joy and sorrow are shared without walls and boundaries.

There is pressure to perform in school. If you have nothing else to do, educate yourself. There is pressure from the family, the teacher, peers and the competitive exams you have to face. And no one ever complained about it. Everything we did in our early years was meant to prepare us for the tough years ahead. No one really dreamed of an easy life. That's the Indian way. Does it ring a bell?

Naked and ambitious

When you have nothing, anything that you get is an achievement. The Indian, by and large, never took anything for granted. Everything that came was not due to entitlement but by hard work and effort.

The Indian manager's hunger is legendary. Corporate organisations globally recognise this facet of the Indian. To an extent, this latent hunger is very much ingrained in the DNA of the Indian manager. Give a task to an Indian, and you will see a different degree of solution-appeal coming through. Some of the best projects in engineering science, data science and chip design are examples of the rigour of work an Indian is prepared for and brings to the party.

A competition of numbers

The Indian manager does not baulk at competition. He has been through it all. Every school admission he got, every competitive exam he sat for, and every job he filled an application form for, had thousands in competition for the same.

This meant he had to be the fastest of them all to make it. Running, and running fast and hard, has been the trait of the Indian manager. He doesn't shy away from it when it comes to work as well. In the bargain he does get aggressive, but then aggression was never questioned in the past, as it is being done in the new "woke" world of lazy business today.

An uncertain life

The Indian manager has grown up in circumstances totally fluid and uncertain. Nothing has been laid neatly on his dinner plate. Pre-plated meals are not his. A hotch-potch that is served up depending on the mood of the moment, is more his "thaali meal". Uncertainty is not frowned upon. An act of God is seen as an act of God. As was Covid.

The uncertain life makes you think on your feet and gets you to be that wee bit philosophical as well. The Indian manager is that much more philosophical, save the Japanese and the Chinese, who are way ahead on this count—thanks to Zen philosophy, wabi-sabi and Confucius.

What lies ahead for the Indian manager then? I see a huge explosion waiting to happen. An explosion of Indian talent occupying global leadership positions in every realm. And within this, one will witness a whole lot of Indian women in the lead. If you really dig deep into the suppression theory of mine, you will see gender suppression to be the biggest of them all. This is one suppression theme that continues to the moment and the day.

As women of modern India finally destroy this completely unjust suppression, you will see the Indian woman leader emerge to be the biggest among the best. To that moment then.

PUFFIN' AND PANTIN' ON THE ROALD DAHL BEACH

C P SURENDRAN

Poet, novelist, and screenplay writer. His latest novel is One Love and the Many Lives of Osip B

Roald Dahl has been dead for over 30 years. Never was he more in trouble than now. Dahl was a Royal Air force pilot. In 1940, his plane crashed in Libya and he was severely injured in the spine and head. Months later, he recovered. When the war was over, he took up writing seriously, and we discovered he was a genius. It is possible that the brush with death—the broken spine and the cracked skull—touched off new nerves; pain and trauma are potentially regenerative.

A fortnight ago, Puffin, the children's publishing wing of Penguin, brought out a revised edition of Dahl's short stories for kids, not only with the help of virtuous editors but also with the active aid of censors. They hired Sensitivity Readers to go over Dahl's texts, as reported by The Guardian, which, like many other newspapers, has carried a series of articles condemning the Puffin effort to make a good man of Dahl.

An aside. The Guardian has been a leader of the liberal banners of the universe to make the planet a better place. Indian media, often brave when the government in power is soft, has followed suit. Well, they seem to have completely forgotten that they did everything in their power to "appear good" and "progressive" at every opportunity and that they contributed to the cancel culture whose latest victim is Dahl.

To generalise on Dahl's plane crash and pains. True writing is not possible without experience, which is why an imitative software like ChatGPT must fail. The prescriptive society we are at pains to evolve revolts against the idea of experience, and, therefore, against art. You must fall to rise. "To live, to err, to fall, to triumph, to recreate life out of life!" Joyce said. Well, if Joyce resurfaced in our midst, he is not likely to be published for reasons of misogyny, racism, and obscenity. Great writing is not against Man. It is against all that is imperfect in the human condition. By critiquing the present, the written word sets a higher standard for the future.

In varying degrees, the cancel culture has affected the standing of writers like Nabokov, Hemingway, Enid Blyton, Peter Handke, and J K Rowling. In keeping with the re-emergence of the visual culture—a kind of return to the primitive civilisation—as opposed to the written culture, it is the word that is taking the brunt of the reformist zeal of the virtuous, not the abstract arts like painting or music. Naturally, there are more writers paying the price than other artists.

Dahl's short stories are like miniature explosions. In one of his early stories, Madame Rosette, for example, a couple of young RAF pilots based in Cairo during the war get hilariously drunk and plan to save ("It is the chivalry of the army", a sentence repeatedly uttered by one of the cheerfully inebriated characters) a bunch of women from the hands of Madame Rosette who runs a brothel. She is described in all the banned words of today: "short, fat,... greasy"; "a large mud-colored face"; "a small fish mouth..."; "a trace of black mustache". All these play to a type so that the "chivalry of the army" comes through.

AP

> The textual changes in Dahl's work add up to a massive act of censorship. And this is carried out not by the State, not the social media mobs of the Left and the Right, but by a publishing house

Without the misogyny—which to my mind is as congenital a condition as might be obesity or queerness—the saving of the girls will never be romantic and comic enough. The story was written in the early 1940s. It is good to ask: why should Penguin (which brought out the short stories of Dahl and profited) not edit these offending descriptions, so the parents of Puffin readers, too, are reformed?

The Sensitivity Readers that Puffin hired earned their keep by removing/adding words and sentences and changing the tone and mood of the stories, so kids do not grow up toxic. No matter that the same kids watch porn on the internet and are addicted to violent games.

That Puffin's convent idea of literature brings into question the legacies and intellectual property rights of authors is part of the problem. The equally important part is the puffery at the heart of the liberal enterprise.

For instance, in the story Matilda, a sentence that previously read "crazy with frustration" now says "wild with frustration". In Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, the description of the boy, Augustus Gloop, has changed from "enormously fat" to just "enormous". The Cloud Men characters in James and the Giant Peach are now Cloud People.

In what way is this different from the Victorian idea of good behavior that would encourage women to refer to a man's legs as "understandings"? The textual changes in Dahl's work add up to a massive act of censorship. And this is carried out not by the State, not the social media mobs of the Left and the Right, but by a publishing house.

At this rate, it is safe to assume that Shakespeare's Get Thee To A Nunnery passage (Hamlet admonishing a frozen, waxen Ophelia) will be soon dropped from college texts. When institutions preach ethics, one can safely assume potent individual revolts are being preempted.

When a whole society is caught in a reformist frenzy, witch-hunting and lynching become hard to distinguish from a collective compulsive mental disorder to be seen as samaritans.

The latest development in the Dahl story is that Puffin will go back to restoring the prodigal writer to his original text. It will, however, offer both versions—original and rewritten—for readers to choose from. This follows the public outcry, led by the likes of Philip Pullman and Salman Rushdie. Too late. Puffin remains exposed: at heart, it is not a publisher, but a policeman.

When the government of the day comes down on free speech, at least the binary of the situation is clear. But what is one to do when publishing houses take the initiative to virtually silence an author? A four-letter word comes to mind, and it is not love, as Sensitivity Readers might like to think.

Nostalgia galore

Apropos of That dark and stormy night in Mathura (Feb 27). For a Telugu born in Madras in the 50s, this column today was for me a time machine ride back to the 60s when mythological Telugu films like Sri Krishnavataram ruled the roost! Graphically nostalgic. Nandri!

Khera's arrest

Apropos of Khera's arrest and the politics of brand management (Feb 27). The egregious display of power shown in the arrest of Pawan Khera is reprehensible. Equally baffling is the haste in which Khera tendered an apology for a common political spoof. It was expected of him to stand by his harmless political name-calling, something that umpteen BJP leaders engage in all the time.

Women empowerment

Apropos of At the wheel, at all times (Feb 27). I am extremely pleased to see that Indian women have ventured into new professions which contribute to their empowerment. Sandhya is an inspiration to women in our country. Her success demonstrates that anyone can achieve great things if they have the will to do so.

Shiv Sena's future

Apropos of Testing times for Shiv Sena movement (Feb 26). Shinde is placed better politically at the moment with BJP by his side. Uddhav ruined Shiv Sena by turning it into a dynastic party jettisoning its Hindutva ideology out of greed for power. Sooner than later, the shiv sainiks will rally round Shinde, relegating Uddhav to a minor player.

Need funding for institutes

The article Financing the gap in higher education (Feb 26) realistically brings out the need for financial support for Institutions of Eminence. It has almost become a pattern in many universities for top officials to say they want to make their university a world-class university. Without adequate funding, this will be a pipe dream. Let us join the writer to demand the financial support that these institutions rightly deserve.

Govt working to tap huge potential of tribal society: PM

KAVITA BAJELI DATT @ New Delhi

EMPHASISING the importance of good governance practices and government benefits reaching everyone, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said such an approach will have no scope for discrimination and corruption. He said facilities need to be provided to the deprived, the tribal communities and also mentioned Pasmanda Muslims in this regard.

"For the first time, the country is tapping the huge potential of the tribal society of our country at this scale," he said in a webinar titled 'Reaching the last mile.' He said the government has to quickly provide various facilities to the tribal population in over 200 districts and 22,000 villages.

"Similarly among our minorities, especially among Muslims we have Pasmanda Muslims. How we have ensure the benefits reach them... as they even today after so many years of Independence remain far behind," he said. "The more emphasis we put on good governance, the more easily our goal of reaching the last mile will be accomplished... Approach of reaching the last mile and the policy of saturation complement each other. When our aim is to reach everyone, then there will be no scope for discrimination and corruption," he said.

He said along with money, political will is needed for development and asserted that the development of tribal communities has been a priority for his government. Modi said, "The more emphasis we put on good governance, the more easily our goal of reaching the last mile will be accomplished."

Use of toxic drug brings down vulture count

The population of the scavenger birds has come down from four crore to 19,000 in a span of over three decades

JITENDRA CHOUBEY @ New Delhi

THE lack of funds for care and rampant use of toxic chemicals/medicines have significantly contributed to the dwindling population of vultures across the country. The population of vultures – the natural scavengers – has come down from 4 crore to 19,000 in a span of over three decades.

Vultures are important for the ecosystem, as they prevent an outbreak of epidemics. In the absence of it, the number of feral dogs' population increases and they become carriers of several diseases that affect humans, wildlife and livestock. When the Union Minister of Environment, Forest & Climate Change Bhupender Yadav visited the Pinjore-based Vulture Conservation and Breeding Centre, he announced the release of vultures in the wild soon. However, he was silent on the rampant use of non-steroid anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAID), which are toxic to vultures, within 100 km of the center.

Experts say that once the birds are released, they will find their food within 100 km and may fall prey to NSAID. Recently, experts conducted a survey and carcass sampling within 100 km of the Pinjore centre. The survey report, which is yet to be made public, shows large-scale use of NSAID. In 2004, American scientist Lindsay Oaks discovered that Diclofenac – an NSAID -- was the cause behind the vultures' declining population. This drug caused visceral gout – a disease in the accumulation of uric acid crystals on organs, particularly the kidneys. After the findings, the government banned the use of Diclofenac in 2008.

"The drug's illegal use through human formulation has continued," said Sachin Ranade, a vulture scientist. "In 2015, again, the government banned large vials (5-50 ml) of Diclofenac and allowed only 2-3 ml vials for human use which drugs company protested and took the matter to court. The Delhi High Court overruled and continued the ban," said Ranade. Later, scientists found that more NSAID identified as aceclofenac, nimesulide, and ketorprofen proved toxic to vultures. In September 2022, a Delhi-based lawyer and RTI activist, Gaurav Bansal, filed a petition in the HC asking for a ban on the three NSAID.

According to Bansal, the court asked for advice from institutions like Bombay Natural History Society (BNHS) and Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO), the main drug regulatory body. The BNHS supported the ban on NSAID. "The CDSCO stand is unclear," said Bansal.

"Last year, we visited chemist shops of every tehsil/block where we found NSAID being sold openly as the people were ignorant about alternatives within the range of 100 km of the Pinjore centre," said Vibhash Pandey, BNHS Director. Pandey said two alternative medicines – Tolfenamic and Meloxicam, which proved safe enough for vultures – are available but are not popular among vets. "We get around ₹6 crore budget to maintain four centres," says Pandey.

Diclofenac: Causes kidney failure

Aceclofenac: A prodrug that quickly metabolises into diclofenac

Nimesulide: Induces kidney failure

Ketorprofane: Causes visceral grout

DEADLY DRUGS

Non-steroid anti-inflammatory drugs (NSAID) are highly toxic to vultures who may consume it via dead cows or cattle.

Visceral gout is a disease where accumulation of uric acid crystals in different organs, including the liver, causes severe renal damage

SAFE FOR NOW
- Tolfenamic
- Meloxicam

TIMELINE
- 2004 Scientists discover Diclofenac is behind mass deaths of vultures
- 2008 Government of India (GoI) bans Diclofenac for animal use
- 2015 GoI bans sale of large vials of Diclofenac
- 2016 Scientists identify three more NSAID toxic to vultures
- 2022 Activisits file petition to put ban on the three NSAID

India likely to miss '30 deadline for UN SDG indicators, says Lancet

KAVITA BAJELI DATT @ New Delhi

INDIA is not on target for over 50% of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) indicators related to health and social determinants of health seven years before the 2030 deadline, a study in The Lancet journal has said. It, however, praised the government's Swachh Bharat Mission, which provides sanitation facilities for every household, noting that India is well on-target to provide universal sanitation to its citizens by 2030.

"The political will and administrative focus that has supported the Swachh Bharat Mission at the highest levels would benefit other programs aimed at providing basic services for the population of India," the study, conducted by an international team of researchers, it said.

The study found that over 75 percent of Indian districts are off target for crucial SDG indicators like access to basic services, poverty, stunting and wasting of children, anaemia, child marriage, partner violence, tobacco use, and modern contraceptive use. For these indicators, more than 75 percent of the districts were off-target. These districts are concentrated in Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Bihar, and Odisha, the study said.

"India is not on target for 19 of the 33 SDGs indicators ... Because of a worsening trend observed between 2016 and 2021, and assuming no course correction occurs, many districts will never meet the targets on the SDGs even well after 2030," the authors of the study noted.

India's emergence and sustenance as a leading economic power depends on meeting indicators in equitable manner.

MATTER OF HEALTH

75% districts off target: MP, Chhattisgarh, Jharkhand, Bihar, Odisha

Off-target categories: Poverty, Basic services, Stunting in children, Anemia, Child marriage, Partner violence, Tobacco use, Modern contraceptive use 03 worse off-target cases are related to increase in anemia among pregnant and non-pregnant women between 2016 and 2021.

URGENT ATTENTION TO
- No poverty (SDG 1)
- Zero hunger (SDG 2)
- Good health and well-being (SDG 3)
- Gender equality (SDG 4)

On-target to meet 13 out of the 33 indicators

Internet use, Bank account for women, Full vaccination, Improved sanitation, Reduction in multi-dimensional poverty, Birth registration, Skilled birth attendants, Electricity access, Tobacco use reduction among women, Curbing child marriages, Under-five mortality, Teenage sexual violence, Neonatal mortality

Hinduism way of life, don't belittle it: SC

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THERE is no bigotry in Hinduism and it is a way of life, the Supreme Court observed on Monday while rejecting a plea filed by BJP's Ashwini Upadhyay seeking to set up a "Renaming Commission" for restoration of original names of historical, cultural and religious places that were changed by foreign invaders.

Pointing out that India is wedded to the rule of law, secularism and constitutionalism, a bench of justices K M Joseph and B V Nagarathna remarked that a country cannot remain a prisoner of the past. Justice Jospeh was of the view that Upadhyay's plea will create more disharmony as he was targeting a particular community. He added that it would bring alive issues that would keep the country on the boil. "We are secular and supposed to protect the Constitution. You are concerned about past and dig it up to place its burden on present generation. Each thing you do in this manner will create more disharmony," Justice Joseph said.

Your finger is being pointed at a particular community, termed barbaric. Do you want to keep the country on boil?

Justice K M Joseph

Justice Nagarathna said, "Hinduism is a way of life. Because of that India has assimilated everybody. Because of that we are able to live together. The divide and rule policy of the British created schism. Let us not being that back."

The court while dismissing the petition, said: "India that is Bharat is a secular country. A country cannot remain a prisoner of the past....The history of any nation cannot haunt the present and future generations to the point that succeeding generations become prisoners of the past. The golden principle of fraternity is of greatest importance and rightfully finds its place in the Preamble."

SC recalls its order of fine on political parties

The Supreme Court bench of Justices BR Gavai and Dinesh Maheshwari on Monday recalled its order of imposing fine on various political parties for its failure to publish criminal antecedents of candidates fielded for 2020 Bihar Assembly elections. Court's order came in a review plea which was filed by BJP General Secretary BL Santosh against SCs August 2021 order of imposing a fine on BJP for failing to adhere to its directions.

Plea over ED chief's tenure extension

The SC was told on Monday that ED Director Sanjay Kumar Mishra's tenure extension was illegal. SG Tushar Mehta submitted, "My specific pleading on affidavit is all political people facing serious money laundering cases have come before your Lordship. I will challenge locus." The bench posted the matter on March 21.

Pawan Khera's interim bail extended

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Monday extended the interim protection to Congress spokesperson Pawan Khera against whom multiple FIRs have been registered over his remark on PM Narendra Modi till the next date of listing.

A bench of CJI DY Chandrachud, Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala also granted states of Assam and UP wherein FIRs have been lodged against him under sections 153 A, 500, 504, 505 (2) of IPC for referring the PM as "Narendra Gautamdas Modi" time to file their counter.

On Thursday, the SC had directed Dwarka court to grant him interim bail. Pursuant to SCs direction, Khera on being produced was granted interim bail by Dwarka court. Khera was detained at Delhi airport on Thursday by Assam police.

After Sisodia, KCR family may face heat: BJP

AMID the Manish Sisodia episode in Delhi, the next big thing for the BJP appears to be Telangana, where the party has accused Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao of nepotism and gross misgovernance, and where the Assembly polls are due later this year. In an interview with Rajesh Kumar Thakur, BJP general secretary in charge of J&K, Ladakh and Telangana Tarun Chugh says Telangana people have understood how KCR's politics has ruined the state.

Excerpts:

What are the issues the BJP will raise in the Telangana polls?

Our party is engaged in development politics. We want a prosperous and corruption-free Telangana. The gross misgovernance of KCR and his family have brought Telangana to the brink of collapse. This will be our prime focus. We all know the kind of nepotism and family fiefdom that KCR has been running. Today in Telangana, injustice is being done to every section of society. The youth are being shown false dreams and KCR remains seated in Pragati Bhawan in a narcissistic manner. After Delhi, BJP is fully geared to expose Telangana's first family over corruption.

Is it right to say that BJP does not have a strong candidate against KCR?

The BJP does not need an eminent face to win the hearts of the people. As a party, BJP stands for certain values and ideals. Every party worker represents those values. Prime Minister Narendra Modi's various development schemes started in the state would be the party's strength to take on KCR. Moreover, the BJP is not a family-run party. Every party worker is an important force to fight KCR. We believe in 'sabka sath, sabka viswas, sabka prayas' besides in the nation first. Telangana people have understood wisely how KCR-led politics has ruined the state. So, the people are ready to welcome the BJP.

Verbatim

Is BJP confident of forming a government in Telangana?

Ours is a democratic party, it celebrates democracy. For the BJP, elections are not meant to gain power only. Its larger purpose is to serve the people. The state is clamouring for change, peace, prosperity, progress and good governance and development for all.

Will BJP be able to fight alone against the likely joint front of Owaisi's AIMIM and KCR?

If you get two leaders together, it does not mean you have the people along with you. The people don't accept opportunist alliances. The BJP would bring in honest and fresh faces to breathe new life into state politics. The Prime Minister's development plans that have benefitted lakhs of people in Telangana will be our strength.

Is the BJP preparing for the assembly elections in Kashmir?

We are not a seasonal party. The BJP is focusing on development works in J&K. The party is working diligently to pull J&K out completely from the shadow of terrorism so that it realizes its full potential. The J&K youth now see new hopes and aspirations. A new development wave is sweeping across the state.

The CBI has arrested Delhi Deputy CM Manish Sisodia in the alleged excise policy scam. The AAP has protested outside your office. How do you take this?

The AAP has lost all ground in politics. Chief Minister Arvind Kejariwal has abetted corruption across Delhi by opening street contracts for liquor and making a new liquor policy. By protesting against the arrest, AAP cannot hide corruption from the people. A few years back, the same Kejriwal would ask for (then Congress CM) Sheila Dikshit's resignation. Today, why has he not taken resignation from his ministers who are being sent to jail in corruption charges?

Do you see any impact of Rahul Gandhi's recent 'Bharat Jodo Yatra'?

Rahul Gandhi has a habit of making meaningless statements. First of all he should be thankful to Prime Minister Modi for creating a peaceful atmosphere in J&K where he was able to hold his yatra. Moreover, people in J&K have realized the damage that the Congress-ruled governments caused to the economy. The Congress in fact is feeling rattled and is completely at loss on how to go about the region. The Bharat Jodo Yatra will have no impact as BJP is being accepted by the people on a large scale

Does your party see Kashmir as fit for the polls?

Certainly. A new chapter has begun in J&K after the removal of Article 370. The people are seeing new hope and avenues for their growth. In fact, under the garb of Article 370, J&K was kept deprived of many advantages and development projects.

RAILWAYS: FIGHTING THE CATTLE MENACE

Polling by and large peaceful in two N-E states; TMC looks for gains in Meghalaya, while NDPP-BJP alliance expects a sweep in Nagaland

More than 76% turnout in peaceful Meghalaya voting

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

MEGHALAYA, which went to the polls on Monday, recorded a turnout of 77.55%. The polling was peaceful. The 2018 elections saw a turnout 85.59%. The authorities replaced a polling team following the receipt of a complaint about proxy voting. It was detected when a person discovered that his vote was already cast.

Michael Kharsyntiew, who contested as an independent from the North Shillong seat, accused a BJP leader of distributing money at Oakland in Shillong while the polling was on. Chief Minister Conrad K Sangma, who heads the National People's Party (NPP), was optimistic about the party retaining power.

After casting his vote, Sangma, who contested the South Tura seat in the Garo Hills, told the media the party received a good response from everywhere. "It is a good sign for democracy that people are coming out in large numbers to vote," he said.

Former CM Mukul Sangma of the Trinamool Congress (TMC) was equally confident. After casting his vote, he said the TMC was headed for the "magic numbers". The state has a 60-member Assembly.

The NPP heads a six-party coalition which also has the BJP and some regional parties. It went to elections in the backdrop of a series of corruption charges leveled against the government. Recently, Congress had come out with a 10-point "chargesheet" on the alleged scams.

The TMC leadership is upbeat about Meghalaya. The party had a backdoor entry after Congress jumped ship in 2021.

Brisk polling in Nagaland, Rio sees NDPP-BJP sweep

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Guwahati

BARRING stray incidents of violence, the polling in Nagaland passed off peacefully on Monday. The state recorded a turnout of 85.32% as against 83.85% in the 2018 elections. The polling percentage is likely to go up as reports were awaited from some interior places.

Fifty-nine of the state's 60 constituencies went to the polls after a BJP candidate was re-elected unopposed. In Akuk village under the Bhandari constituency in Wokha district, supporters of two candidates attacked each other, leaving three persons injured.

Chief Minister Neiphiu Rio's Nationalist Democratic Progressive Party (NDPP), which heads the state's ruling coalition that also has BJP as a component, exuded confidence the two would retain power. "I am already the longest-serving CM and I am humbled by the love and support of people," said the four-time CM.

"The NSCN-IM signed the Framework Agreement on August 3, 2015. The NNPGs (Naga National Political Groups) signed an agreement on November 17, 2017. Both groups were not together (earlier). There was no solution. But on January 14 this year, they issued a joint statement stating that they will solve the issue based on the Nagas' historical rights and culture," Rio said.

The NDPP-BJP combine is expected to retain power as the Opposition is weak. The two parties struck a seat-sharing deal, as per which NDPP and BJP have contested 40 and 20 seats respectively. The Naga People's Front, contested 22 seats, Congress 23 and Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) 16.

Vivek Oberoi enters Himanta's fan club

Assam Chief Minister Himanta Biswa Sarma has a huge fan following. A recent addition to the list is Bollywood actor Vivek Oberoi. Oberoi, who visited Assam to attend the Bodoland International Knowledge Festival held in Kokrajhar, told journalists that Sarma has a vision, not just for Assam but the entire Northeast. The actor said ever since Sarma had joined the BJP, there had been faster growth and development in Assam. "He works 24 hours a day and it speaks volumes of his commitment. This is why, he is Himanta Biswa Sarma. People love him very much," Oberoi said.

Court relief for 85-yr-old retired Army man

Jagat Bahadur Chetri, an 85-year-old retired Army man, was given relief by the Gauhati High Court after an electoral registration officer (ERO) referred his case to a Foreigners' Tribunal, a quasi-judicial body, on the suspicion that he is an illegal migrant. After examining his case, the court ruled that he was an Indian citizen born in Dibrugarh in 1937. It imposed a fine of Rs 10,000 on the ERO. It may be recalled that as defined by the Assam Accord, people who entered India illegally from a "specified territory" (Bangladesh) after March 25, 1971 are to be detected and deported. The NRC was updated based on this cut-off date.

War of words between Ajmal and Bora

A war of words erupted recently between the chief of All India United Democratic Front (AIUDF) Maulana Badruddin Ajmal and Assam Congress president Bhupen Kumar Borah. Ajmal, who is the Dhubri MP, claimed Borah takes money from the AIUDF as well as Assam CM Himanta Biswa Sarma. Retaliating, the Congress leader said if Ajmal could prove he took even ` 100 from the AIUDF or the BJP, he would quit politics. In response, Ajmal said he would prove his claim with evidence ahead of next year's Lok Sabha elections as it would be premature to disclose his "secret evidence" right now.

Death of Moosewala killers: 7 gangsters hurt in jail clashes

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A total of seven gangsters were injured, two of them seriously, in the clash that broke out between two groups of inmates in Goindwal Sahib Jail in Punjab's Tarn Taran district on Saturday in which two men accused in the murder case of Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala were killed.

The Punjab Police has registered a case of murder and attempt to murder besides Arms Act against seven of them. Also, the Assistant Jail Superintendent has been suspended by the Prisons Department.

In another move, 18 men accused in the case who were lodged in the jail have been shifted to five different jails of the state.

Sources said that a case has been registered against Manpreet Singh, Sachin Bhiwani, Ankit Lati, Kashish, Rajinder, Arshad Khan and Malkit Singh on charges of murder, attempt to murder and under the Arms Act. As per the complaint made by the Jail Superintendent, Mandeep Singh alias Toofan hailing from Batala, Manmohan Singh alias Mohna of Budhlana and Keshaw of Bathinda were attacked with irons rods, leaving them seriously injured.

Speaking on the condition of anonymity, an officer said that 25 gangsters named in the Sidhu Moosewala murder case were lodged in three sets of cells in the high security zone of the Goindwal Sahib Jail.

"The Prisons Department has suspended Assistant Superintendent of Jails Harish Kumar in view of the incident and a judicial inquiry would be ordered," said the officer.

Sources said that at the time of Sidhu Moosewala's murder, gangsters Lawrence Bishnoi and Jaggu Bhagwanpuria had good relations and now, reports of differences between them have surfaced.

Senior Superintendent of Police of Tarn Taran Gurmeet Singh Chauhan said that a case of murder and attempt to murder has been registered against the seven gangsters who were involved in the clash.

Sisodia sent to CBI custody till March 4 in excise policy scam

JAISON WILSON @ New Delhi

A special CBI court on Monday sent Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leader and Delhi Deputy Chief Minister Manish Sisodia to five-day CBI custody till March 4, in the multi-crore excise policy scam case. Judge M K Nagpal of the Rouse Avenue Court allowed the CBI's plea for custodial interrogation after hearing hour-long arguments by the lawyers of Sisodia and the investigative agency.

The court directed the CBI to interrogate the minister only at a place where CCTV cameras are placed, in order to avoid the apprehension of force used on him. Sisodia will be medically examined every 48 hours and his wife will be able to meet him for 15 minutes every day. His lawyers are allowed to meet him every day for half an hour between 6 pm and 7 pm. The CBI had arrested Sisodia on Sunday after eight hours of questioning in connection with the now-scrapped Delhi excise policy, which was allegedly tweaked to benefit certain liquor traders linked to the AAP.

Special public prosecutor Pankaj Gupta, appearing for the CBI, argued that Sisodia gave evasive replies during questioning and sought five days' custody for an effective probe. The CBI also alleged that the minister destroyed three of his four mobile phones. Sisodia's lawyer senior advocate Dayan Krishnan said all the changes in the policy were duly approved by Lieutenant Governor Vinai Kumar Saxena and that the central probe agency was going after an elected government.

He also contested the CBI's claim that the minister has not cooperated with the probe, saying; "Not confessing does not mean not cooperating."

Sonrise in J&K: Azad's son joins dad's party, says will talk about youth

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

THERE has been another sonrise in Jammu and Kashmir politics with former J&K Chief Minister and Democratic Progressive Azad Party (DPAP) chairman Ghulam Nabi Azad's son Saddam Nabi Azad plunging to politics and joining his father's party.

Saddam, 41, attended the DPAP's youth convention at Nageen Club in Srinagar. The function was chaired by his father Ghulam Nabi Azad and many top leaders of the party were present during the youth interaction programme.

It was his first public appearance and formal joining of politics, DPAP spokesman Salman Nizami said. Saddam is a businessman and has pursued his studies from England. He is the eldest among the two siblings. His younger sister Sofiya Nabi Azad has studied journalism and there is a possibility that since she belongs to a political family, she may also join active politics in future.

"I am glad to see my son Saddam Azad actively joining politics. I hope he lives upto people's expectations," tweeted Azad after his son's formal joining into politics.

I am glad to see my son Saddam Azad actively joining politics. I hope he will be able to live up to people's expectations.

Ghulam Nabi Azad, ex- J&K CM and DPAP chairman

DPAP General Secretary R S Chib said given his exposure and vision, Saddam would be a guiding force for the youth. "We are looking forward to his contribution."

DPAP spokesman Salman Nizami said Saddam was already working behind the scenes to improve the functioning of the party. "But now he has decided formally to join and engage in active politics. He has a vision, mission and energy to share with people in Jammu and Kashmir," he said.

Asked whether Saddam would be given any responsibility in the party, Nizami said, "Since our party was launched last year, he was involved in media and management. Now that he has joined active politics, he will be attending party functions and he will be given more also a responsibility."

He said Kashmir needs educated youth and Saddam will talk of youth. "He has learnt a lot from Azad sahab and his joining the politics will have an impact on the party. He wants to work for welfare of people and complete the unfinished work of his father" Saddam has joined a long list of political heirs in Jammu and Kashmir.

Killing by cow vigilante: DNA reports match 2 Muslim men burnt to death

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN the case relating to the abduction and killing of two Muslim men from Rajasthan's Bharatpur district on February 15, DNA reports have confirmed that the remains found in the Bolero jeep were those of Junaid and Nasir.

Moreover, an analysis of the blood stains found in a Scorpio SUV used by the cow vigilantes in the assault which was discovered in a Gaushala in Haryana match the two killed men.

The Rajasthan Police revealed these details on the basis of a DNA report that came on Sunday evening.

Bharatpur Range IG Gaurav Srivastava has issued a statement to confirm the identity of Junaid and Nasir who died in the horrific incident. To verify this fact, a DNA test of bones was done and blood samples of Nasir and Junaid's family members were taken.

He added that there was no doubt that the "Bhiwani massacre was a heinous crime. We are alert about any such statement regarding this incident which disturbs the communal harmony. Rajasthan Police is moving forward through fair investigation on the basis of technical investigation."

After this report, it has become clear that Junaid and Nasir were abducted and brutally assaulted by cow vigilantes. After this, the kidnappers threw them in their car and took them 200 kilometres away. There, the victims were burnt to death. It is also being claimed in some reports that the Scorpio in which blood stains of Nasir and Junaid have been found was earlier listed as a vehicle used in government departments of Haryana.

After this incident, along with Haryana Police, a question mark is now also being raised on the role of the Rajasthan Police, for even after almost two weeks of the incident, the latter has arrested only one of the accused, Rinku Saini. All the other accused are still out of reach of the police.

Some people of the Muslim community held a meeting at Amanishah Maidan in Jaipur demanding the arrest of the accused. During this, leaders Pappu Qureshi and Waqar Ahmed demanded financial assistance of ₹51 lakh to the relatives of Junaid and Nasir and jobs to their next of kin.

Life term for 3 in CRPF camp attack case

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

THREE terror convicts, associated with Pakistan-based terror organisation Lashkar-e-Taiyyaba, were sentenced by the special judge of NIA/ATS court of Lucknow to life imprisonment in a case of waging war against the country and keeping weapons like AK-47 and other deadly arms.

The three convicts who got sentenced included Sabauddin, Mohammad Farrukh alias Abu Julfikar and Imran Shahzad alias Abu Osama.

Significantly, all the three were already awarded capital punishment by Rampur Sessions Court in connection with the attack on Rampur CRPF camp on January 1, 2008. In the attack, seven CRPF jawans were martyred along with a rickshaw puller. Eight people, including three CRPF constables, were injured in the attack. The three had been in jail for 15 years.

Gujarat BJP MLAs more proactive than Oppn in questioning own govt

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@ Ahmedabad

IN Gujarat, it is the BJP leaders, rather than the Opposition, who are speaking out against their own government which was formed after the party bagged 156 seats in the recent polls. Ketan Inamdar, MLA of Vadodara Savli, has accused the BJP-led management of corruption in Baroda Dairy, while Viramgam BJP MLA Hardik Patel has threatened to launch an agitation over alleged farmers' exploitation.

Surat Varachha MLA Kumar Kanani, on the other hand, has criticised many government policies. Following the formation of the government, Vadodara's Savli MLA Ketan Inamdar began raising questions against his own party. Inamdar has alleged there is rampant corruption in BJP-ruled Baroda District Co-operative Milk Producers Union Limited (BDCMPUL), popularly known as Baroda Dairy. He accused a few directors of making out-of-turn appointments of their relatives to positions in the dairy, as well as corruption in the awarding of maintenance contracts.

Inamdar also sat in protest outside the Baroda Dairy. As a result, an Independent, vice-chairman, and acting chairman of Baroda Dairy G B Solanki resigned on February 22. Hardik Patel, who led the Patidar agitation in the state, has been threatening to stage protests against the state government over the state of the farmers in his electoral district.

He wrote a letter to Agriculture Minister Raghavji Patel requesting that non-BT cotton be added to the government's procurement list for the minimum support price (MSP) regime. He also claimed that commercial dealers defraud farmers in the weighing of cotton bales. In a letter, he also threatened to protest in a Gandhian manner if his demands were not met.

Kishor Kanani, the MLA from Varachha in Surat, has challenged the government on several issues. First, he wrote to the Gujarat CM, stating that students going abroad do not receive loans under the government scheme for six months, jeopardising their future.

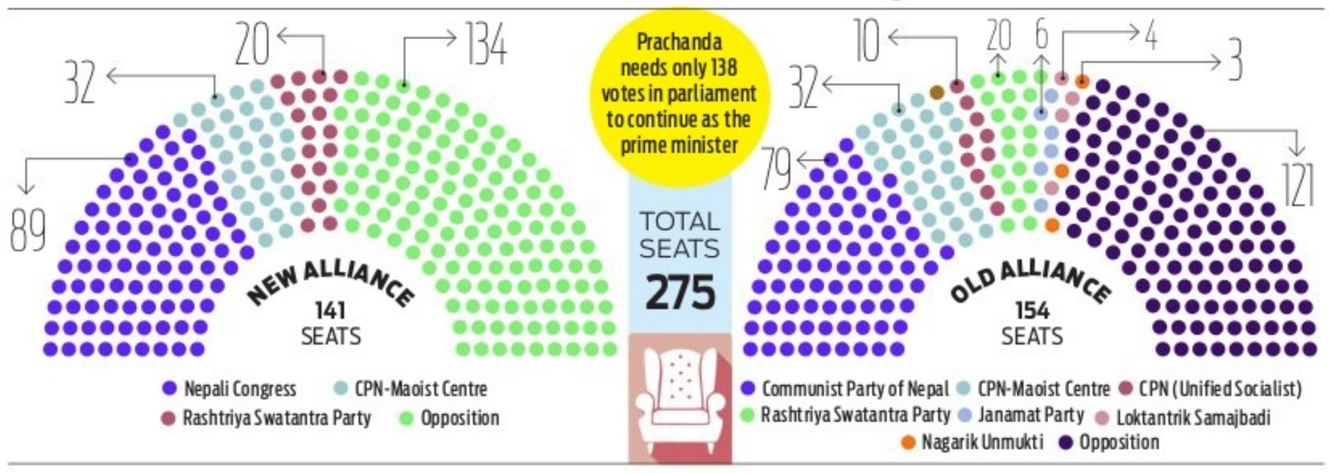
STATE OF PLAY AS NEPAL'S POLITICAL EQUATIONS CHANGE



K P Oli's party exits Nepal's ruling alliance led by Prachanda

Govt safe with support from Deuba's Nepali Congress — largest party in the House

KATHMANDU

NEPAL'S second largest party in Parliament — CPN-UML — on Monday withdrew its support to Prime Minister Pushpa Kamal Dahal "Prachanda"-led government following a rift over backing the main opposition party's candidate for the presidential poll, plunging the Himalayan nation to another spell of political instability.

"A high-level meeting of the party held under the leadership of party chief K P Sharma Oli on Monday decided to quit the government and withdraw the party's support to the Prachanda-led government," Bishnu Rijal, deputy chief of the party's central publicity committee, told PTI. The prime reason for the break-up of the alliance between Prachanda and former prime minister Oli was the Maoist leader's decision to support senior Nepali Congress (NC) candidate Ram Chandra Paudel for the President's post.

Paudel is from the Nepali Congress, an opposition party, and from outside the ruling alliance. Nepal's Presidential election will be held on March 9.

The exit of CPN-UML may not immediately affect the Prachanda-led government, which is supported by the NC which has 89 lawmakers in the House.

As Prime Minister Prachanda violated the December 25 agreement while forming the seven-party coalition government and betrayed the Communist Party of Nepal-(Unified Marxist-Leninist) (CPN-UML), the party took the decision to leave the government, Rijal said.

The UML ministers, including Deputy Prime Minister and Finance Minister Bishnu Poudyal and Foreign Minister Bimala Rai Poudyal, have submitted their resignations to the Prime Minister.

There were eight UML ministers in the Prachanda-led government. Meanwhile, Rashtriya Swatantra Party led by former TV journalist Ravi Lamichhane has decided to continue its support to the government, said Biraj Bhakta Shrestha, deputy Parliamentary Party leader of RSP.

In the 275-member House, the UML has 79 lawmakers while CPN (Maoist Center) has 32. CPN (Unified Socialist) and Rashtriya Swatantra Party have 10 and 20 members, respectively. Janamat Party has 6 members, Loktantrik Samajbadi Party 4 and Nagarik Unmukti Party 3 members in the parliament. PTI

In big win for Sunak, UK, EU sign trade deal on N Ireland

LONDON

BRITAIN and the European Union on Monday agreed a crucial overhaul of trade rules in Northern Ireland, a breakthrough aimed at resetting seriously strained relations since the UK voted to leave the bloc.

Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and European Commission president Ursula von der Leyen adopted the deal at talks in Windsor, west of London, both sides said.

Their meeting followed more than a year of tense negotiations over the "Northern Ireland Protocol", which has unsettled the province 25 years on from a historic peace deal that ended three decades of armed conflict.

Agreed in 2020 as part of Britain's EU divorce, the pact kept the province in the European single market for physical goods and subject to different customs rules than the rest of the UK, angering pro-UK unionists there and eurosceptics in London.

The UK government had threatened a unilateral overhaul of the protocol unless the EU agreed to wholesale changes, souring diplomatic ties and risking a wider trade war, but that prospect now appears to be receding. "I'm looking forward to turning a page and opening a new chapter with our partner and friend," von der Leyen said as she left Brussels ahead of the talks.

The EU chief was also set to meet King Charles III while in Windsor, stoking accusations in the UK that Sunak was trying to project royal endorsement of the expected deal.

It is likely to face opposition from Brexiteers, including Sunak's potentially rebellious predecessor Boris Johnson, and from lawmakers representing the pro-British unionist community in Northern Ireland. Sunak's spokesman insisted the monarch's meeting with von der Leyen was decided by Buckingham Palace.

Sunak and von der Leyen, who met at the Fairmont Hotel in Windsor, are due to hold a short mid-afternoon press conference. The UK leader will then make a statement to parliament scheduled for 6.30 pm (1830 GMT).

The agreement ends a long chapter of talks between London and Brussels, under the direction of three different British prime ministers and the cloud of the war in Ukraine.

It is seen as long overdue to help stabilise both Northern Ireland and the wider UK's post-Brexit relationship with its European partners.

The protocol has faced staunch opposition from the Democratic Unionist Party (DUP), the largest pro-UK party in Northern Ireland, which argues that it threatens the province's place within the UK.

London has been pressing Brussels to agree a "green", check-free lane for goods coming from the rest of the UK that are intended to stay in Northern Ireland, without heading into Ireland and the EU's single market.

The deal would also reportedly limit, but not scrap, oversight of the protocol by the EU's European Court of Justice.

The DUP is particularly angered by the prospect of EU law retaining a role in Northern Ireland, and its response in turn could determine how Conservative eurosceptics in London react. AFP

Britain's Prime Minister Rishi Sunak and European Commission chief Ursula von der Leyen attend a joint press conference at Fairmont Hotel in Windsor, on Monday | AFP

PACT IN A NUTSHELL

- The new framework creates a "green" check-free lane for goods coming from the rest of the UK that are intended to stay in Northern Ireland
- Products coming through the green lane won't be subject to checks and paperwork, while those arriving through "red lane", and are destined for the EU, will be subject to normal checks
- UK-approved medicines will be fully available in Northern Ireland
- The deal will also limit, but not scrap, oversight of the protocol by the European Union's European Court of Justice

Ex-general arrested over inciting hatred against public institutions in Pak

ISLAMABAD

A high-ranking retired Pakistan Army general was arrested early on Monday morning by Islamabad police on charges of inciting the public against national institutions.

Lt General (retd) Amjad Shoaib, a prominent supporter of former prime minister Imran Khan, was detained by the Islamabad police from his residence in the federal capital after a first information report (FIR) was registered against him at the Ramna police station on Sunday by Magistrate Owais Khan.

He was produced before an Islamabad court which remanded him to police custody for three days. The police had sought his custody for seven days to investigate the charges.

The FIR is based on section 153A (promoting enmity between different groups, etc) and 505 (statements conducing to public mischief) of the Pakistan Penal Code.

According to the FIR, the retired general incited people to revolt against institutions during a television interview.

In the complaint, it was said that the retired general 'in an interview on BOL TV show "Imran Khan Bol Kay Saath" aired on Saturday passed statements that 'incited the government officials and opposition from performing their government and legal duties'.

The FIR quoted Shoaib as saying that the 'Jail Bharo Tehreek' (court arrest movement) could not produce the desired outcomes because it was only the people who were bearing pain and agony in it, while 'narcissist and shameless rulers sitting atop didn't care the least about it'.

The magistrate stated that the retired army officer had advised the PTI to 'work out a strategy'.

"For example, you can stop people from going to government offices in Islamabad," the FIR quoted Shoaib as saying.

Shoaib has been a regular face of Pakistan TV talk-shows for the last many years and better known for his controversial remarks. PTI

Italian coastguard personnel carry body of a deceased migrant in a bag in the port of Isola di Capo Rizzuto on Monday | AFP

Over hundred feared dead in Italy boat wreck

CUTRO

Italy's coastguard on Monday searched the sea and beaches for bodies following a shipwreck off Calabria, as the death toll rose to 62 and charities cared for children who witnessed loved ones drowning.

The overloaded wooden boat broke up and sank early Sunday in stormy seas off Italy's southern coast, with bodies, shoes and debris washing up along a long stretch of shoreline.

The death toll rose Monday to 62, a coast guard official told AFP -- and that number looked likely to increase.

Sergio di Dato, head of the Doctors Without Borders (MSF) team offering psychological support to the survivors, said there were cases of children orphaned in the disaster.

"One Afghan 12-year-old boy lost his entire family, all nine of them -- four siblings, his parents and other very close relatives," he told journalists.

Firefighters from the town of Cutro readied a speed boat to head out on a fresh search of the area as helicopters flew overhead.

At Le Castella, where a 15th century fortress dominates the shoreline, an AFP journalist witnessed the coastguard recovering the body of a woman who looked to be in her early 20s. Save the Children charity said on Twitter it was supporting survivors from Afghanistan, Pakistan, Somalia and Syria, including 10 minors who had been travelling with their families.

The charity said survivors described how "during the night, near the coast, they heard a loud boom, the boat broke and they all fell into the water." The survivors were "in shock... some say they saw relatives fall into the water and disappear, or die". AFP

AI to fund aircraft order via cash flow, equity

Dispelling speculation about deal value, CEO Campbell Wilson says airline will spend $70 bn for the mega acquisition

Air India faces criticism from diplomat, celebrity chef

AS Air India CEO Campbell Wilson on Monday spoke about creating a global airline with world class facilities, senior Indian diplomat KJ Srinivasa on the same day complained about the facilities at the airline's business class lounge at the John F Kennedy airport in New York, terming it a "pathetic state of affairs". Srinivasa, Indian envoy to Guyana, Antigua & Barbuda Kitts & Nevis & Anguilla, took to twitter and said that the Air India business class lounge at JFK had empty food containers, disposable plates and cutlery and the staff were unresponsive . On the same day, celebrity chef Sanjeev Kapoor also slammed Air India after he was served 'unsatisfactory meals' on a flight from Nagpur to Mumbai. ENS

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AIR INDIA on Monday said it will spend $70 billion to purchase 470 aircraft from Boeing and Airbus.

According to Campbell Wilson, CEO of the airline, they have plans to finance the deal via a combination of resources, which include internal cash flow, equity, and the sale and leaseback of aircraft.

In the biggest single-order purchase by an airline in the country, Air India earlier this month announced making an order for 220 aircraft from Boeing and 250 planes from Airbus. "We have committed to a historic order of new aircraft that will start entering the fleet from the end of this year through the end of the decade, to both transform the fleet and power significant network and capacity expansion," he said in a virtual press conference.

With respect to exercising the option to purchase another 370 planes, Wilson noted, "We don't have a timeline... will evaluate the market."

The CEO believes Air India has enormous potential to become a significant international player and the addition of wide-body planes would enable them to increase long-haul connectivity. "A new order for 70 widebody planes combined with its existing fleet and other leased aircraft will lead to a many-fold increase in our long-haul fleet and therefore capacity," Wilson said. Wilson also hinted about increasing direct flights to North America and European destinations such as Frankfurt, Paris and the UK. Currently, medium and long-haul flights (to and from India) have a strong presence of foreign carriers such as Emirates, Qatar Airways, Singapore Airlines and United Airlines.

To attract consumers, Wilson said they will be spending $400 million on refurbishing and upgrading their planes. Air India also is inducting about 500 cabin crew each month. On the merger of Vistara with Air India, the CEO said that the process is underway and now they awaiting approval from the Competition Commission of India (CCI). The integration of Air India Express and AIX Connect, earlier known as AirAsia India, is also underway.

The CEO also spoke about the 'pee incident' which took place in November last year and tarnished the airline's image. Wilson said that they learnt lessons and that they could have reacted better. "The airline has realised the importance of reporting incidents," he said.

Carlyle to pick up 7.5% equity stake in SpiceJet

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

IN order to overcome financial crisis, budget airline Spicejet is taking steps to fix the isses amid rising competition. The airline said on Monday its board has restructured over $100 million dues to aircraft lessor Carlyle Aviation Partners into equity and compulsorily convertible debentures (CCDs).

The SpiceJet board has proposed raising fresh capital of up to ₹2,500 crore via eligible securities to qualified institutional buyers. Carlyle will receive 7.5% stake in Spicejet and CCDs in the airline's cargo subsidiary unit as part of its debt-restructuring plan. SpiceJet will issue fresh equity shares of ₹244.28 crore to Carlyle at ₹48 per share or the SEBI determined price, whichever is higher. Following this transaction, Carlyle will have over 7.5% stake in SpiceJet. As part of its debt recast plan, the airline will demerge its cargo business and transfer it to subsidiary SpiceXpress & Logistics (SXPL) in lieu of CCDs to be issued by latter.

Additionally, SpiceJet will transfer CCDs of SpiceXpress, the airline's cargo subsidiary, aggregating to $65.5 million in exchange of its lease liabilities. The CCDs will be converted into equity shares of SpiceXpress at an anticipated future valuation of ₹12,422 crore.

Ajay Singh, Chairman and MD of SpiceJet, said, "Carlyle picking up a stake in our passenger and cargo business reinforces huge potential of SpiceJet and SpiceXpress...The transaction will deleverage our balance sheet allowing us to access fresh funds at a competitive rate and we aim to follow suit with other lessors as well in the near term."

SpiceJet flight makes emergency landing at Kolkata airport

A SpiceJet flight on way to Bangkok made an emergency landing at Kolkata airport in early hours of Monday after pilot noticed an engine blade was broken, officials said. The Boeing 737, operating as flight SG83, took off with 178 passengers and six crew members from the Kolkata airport for Bangkok around 1.09 am. Minutes later, the pilot noticed that a blade of the left engine was broken, they said. Soon, he contacted the air traffic control and a full emergency was declared at the Kolkata airport with fire engines, ambulances, and emergency teams of the CISF in waiting, they added. ENS

Vi allots debentures of ₹1,200 crore to ATC

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

TELECOM operator Vodafone Idea (Vi) on Monday allotted debentures worth ₹1,200 crore to ATC Telecom Infrastructure Private Limited.

The debt-laden company, in an exchange filing, said the balance of debentures worth ₹400 crore will be allotted upon receipt of the application form and subscription money. The company said these funds would be used to pay amounts owed to ATC India under the master lease agreements and to the extent of the remainder for general corporate purposes.

Following this move, ATC will hold 3.18% stake. Its promoters hold total 48.76%, 31.27% by UK's Vodafone Group PLc, and 17.49% India's Aditya Birla Group. The government holds 32.09%

Earlier, the telcos' shareholders had approved the preferential issuance of up to ₹1,600 crore of optionally convertible debentures to ATC Telecom Infra. The special resolution to this effect was cleared at an Extra-ordinary General Meeting (EGM) of Vodafone Idea on Saturday.

According to the voting results, overall 99.99% of the votes were in favour of the resolution, which pertained to issue of optionally convertible debentures of up to ₹1,600 crore to American Tower Corp. The telecom operator has net debt of ₹2.227 lakh crore, of which it owes ₹14,728.6 crore to vendors such as Indus, ATC and Nokia, and another ₹13,190 crore to banks and financial institutions as of December 31, 2022.

Adani Group firms' m-cap falls below ₹7 lakh crore as shares head south

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ Mumbai

THERE was no respite for Adani Group firms as shares of these companies continued their southward journey on Monday.

The Group's valuation fell below ₹7 lakh crore for the first time since August 2021. These firms market capitalisation together is now at ₹6.81 lakh crore, down from ₹19.19 lakh crore on January 24. The 10 listed firms have together lost ₹12.37 lakh crore in market valuation since the US short-seller Hindenburg Research released its report on January 24.

Fall in Adani shares was not good for the broader market either as the BSE Sensex dropped 175.58 points or 0.30% to end at 59,288.35 points, marking a decline for seven straight trading sessions.

Seven consecutive sessions of decline in the equity market have eroded the wealth of investors by ₹10.42 lakh crore and the benchmark Sensex has tumbled more than 2,000 points during this period.

The share price of Adani Enterprises, the ports-to-power conglomerate Adani Group flagship, declined to ₹1,157 apiece during intra-day trade on the BSE on Monday to drift closer to its 52-week low of ₹1,017.

However, some buying at lower levels helped pare the losses and the stock ended 9% lower at ₹1,194. The stock has lost two-thirds of its value since January 24.

Adani Total Gas went lower by 5 % to close at ₹716 and Adani Wilmar dropped 5 % to ₹344 a piece. Shares of Adani Transmission fell 4.99 % to close at ₹676, Adani Green Energy declined by 4.99 % to close at ₹462, NDTV by 4.98 % to ₹181, Adani Power by 4.97 % to ₹139.50, Ambuja Cements by 4.50 % to ₹330 while ACC dropped by 1.95 % to ₹1,695 apiece. Most of the firms also hit their lower circuit limits during the day.

Among the Adani Group firms, Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone was the only company to buck the falling trend as its shares ended with gains. Shares of Adani Ports ended 0.55% higher to close at ₹562 apiece on the BSE.

Stocks of the Gautam Adani-led companies are under selling press on the exchanges since January 24 after Hindenburg Research, in a report, accused it of engaging in fraudulent transactions and manipulating share prices. The Adani Group has denied the accusations, claiming that it abides by all legal and disclosure obligations.

Despite the Group rushed to damage control immediately after the report, shares of the Group continued to fall.

LIC shares hit fresh all-time low

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

FALLING for the seventh consecutive session, shares of Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) hit an all-time low of ₹566 apiece on Monday.

While the stock has fallen regularly since its weak listing last year, the recent plunge is attributed to sharp drop in Adani Group shares.

LIC has invested over ₹30,000 crore in different Adani Group companies.

As Adani stocks have plummeted by up to 82% following the Hindenburg Research report published on January 24, LIC's investment value in the port-to-power conglomerate is believed to have turned negative.

This, according to experts, has irked investors.

In the past one month, LIC shares have dipped 14%. The stock is trading at a discount of 40% as against its issue price of ₹949 per share.

Essar to invest $ 1.2 bn in low-carbon energy projects

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Essar group on Monday announced to invest $ 1.2 billion in India to develop a range of low carbon energy transition projects in the next five years.

The conglomerate, in a statement, said it is going to develop a cost-efficient global supply hub for low carbon fuels, including green hydrogen and green ammonia. "Ammonia will be shipped from India to the UK, Europe and globally to meet expanding market demand for green hydrogen," said Essar Group. It also announced the formation of Essar Energy Transition (EET) to drive creation of the UK's leading energy transition hub in North West England. EET will invest $3.6 billion in developing a range of low carbon energy transition projects over next five years, of which $2.4 billion will be invested across its site at Stanlow, between Liverpool and Manchester and $1.2 billion in India.

The projects will include 1 gigawatt of blue hydrogen project being pursued by Vertex Hydrogen in the UK, 1 GW of green ammonia facility targeted in the UK and global markets and developing 1 MT of low carbon biofuels. It said EET's investment will help deliver on the country's emerging hydrogen ambition. "Government's supportive regulatory framework is designed to help position India as a leading hub of green hydrogen production and exports, as set out in its National Green Hydrogen Mission, approved by the government on January 4 2023," said the company.

Analysts estimate GDP growth in 3rd quarter between 4.5% and 5.5%

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE gross domestic product (GDP) in the third quarter of FY23 is expected to moderate to 4.6-5% on account of continuous rate hikes by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), input price pressure in some sectors and slowdown in consumption.

The GDP grew at 6.3% in the second quarter.

While rating agencies ICRA and Crisil have pegged the GDP growth in the third quarter at 5.1% and 5.2%, respectively, economists from Bank of Baroda and SBI estimate the growth at a much lower rate of 4.6%.

"Corporate profit is down in the third quarter. This will keep value added growth in some sectors low," Madan Sabanavis, chief economist with the Bank of Baroda (BoB) said. Growth in Q3 is although better than

Q2, however, it has largely been uneven across sectors with a few of them registering better growth than others.

Input cost pressure continues to impinge on profits of firms. "The impact was visible on corporate results of industries such as textiles, refineries, chemicals, metal and even plastic," Jahnavi Prabhakar, economist with the BoB said in a report. However, other sectors like construction, agriculture, electricity, services fared better in the quarter. As per ICRA, growth of GDP in the quarter would grow at 5.1%, a base effect-led moderation from 6.3% registered in Q2, FY23. However, the growth over the pre-Covid levels is expected to improve further to 11.6% in Q3FY23, relative to 7.6% seen in the previous quarter, boosted by continued recovery in services sector.

"The advance estimates of kharif production, too, indicate a mixed trend in crop output, with a YoY rise in sugarcane, cotton, coarse cereals and oilseeds and a fall in rice and pulses. Amid continuing input price pressures for certain sectors, we project the GDP growth in Q3 at 5.1%," Aditi Nayar, chief economist, head-research & outreach, ICRA said. Lekha S Chakrborty, professor at the National Institute of Public Finance and Policy said it is difficult to assess the economy as the geopolitical conditions are dynamic.

May 3 last date to opt for higher pension option

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Employees Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) has extended deadline by 3 months for its members to apply for higher pension under the employee pension scheme (EPS) to May 3 from March 3.

"The joint option for employees who were in service prior to September 1, 2014, and continued to be in service on or after 01.09.2014 but could not exercise joint option under the Employees' Pension Scheme can do so on or before May 3, 2023," EPFO said on its website. Higher pension option will be applicable for those who have been subscribing to EPF and EPS before September 1, 2014. The government has removed the capping of ₹15,000 for this category.

Sebi committee asks PACL investors to submit documents for refund

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

A high-level Sebi committee on Monday asked investors in illegal schemes of PACL Group, also known as Pearl Group, with claims of up to ₹17,000 to produce original documents by March 20 for receiving refunds. The panel has asked only those investors, whose applications have been successfully verified, to submit their original certificates.

The committee, headed by former Chief Justice of India RM Lodha, is overseeing the process of disposing of properties to refund investors after verifying their genuineness. It has already initiated the process of refund in phases. The panel was set up by Sebi in 2016 following a Supreme Court order. The committee has decided to call for original PACL registration certificates from eligible investors with claims between ₹15,001 and ₹17,000, whose applications have been successfully verified, according to a statement published on SEBI's website on Monday. Accordingly, intimation through SMS will be sent to all eligible investors, requiring them to submit original PACL registration certificates.

"The window for accepting original certificates shall remain open from February 27, 2023 to March 20, 2023," Sebi said in a statement on Monday. Further, investors have been cautioned against parting with their original PACL registration certificates unless SMS is received from the Committee, requiring submission of original certificates. PACL, which had raised ₹60,000 crore from the public in the name of agriculture and real estate businesses, was found by Sebi to have collected these funds through illegal collective investment schemes over 18 years.

Telecom body justifies usage fee from OTT players

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU
@ New Delhi

THE Cellular Operator of India (COAI) has called its demand for usage fee from OTT platforms 'reasonable' and necessary to meet funding requirements for creating a robust telecom infrastructure, increased revenue for the exchequer and continued innovation.

COAI's statement came after the Internet and Mobile Association of India (IAMAI) slammed the former's demand for revenue sharing with OTT platforms."Certain entities with vested interests are misdirecting the issue of need for a regulatory framework for communication OTTs and the need of usage charge to be paid by OTTs to TSPs, by bringing in the aspect of Net Neutrality to make it a populist issue. We reiterate that all our member TSPs are committed to follow the Net Neutrality principles as per their licencing conditions," said Lt. Gen. Dr. SP Kochhar, Director General, COAI.

OTT players and telecom operators have been at loggerheads ever since the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) introduced the draft Telecom Bill 2022.

Isle of Man bowled out for 10, lowest score in T20s

Isle of Man were bundled out for 10, the lowest total in men's T20s by Spain on Sunday. Sydney Thunder, who had slumped to 15 all out in 5.5 overs against Adelaide Strikers in the BBL earlier this year, held the record previously. It then took Spain all of two balls to chase the score down.
Brief scores: Isle of Man 10 (Kamran 4/4, Mehmood 4/6) lost to Spain 13 for 0 (Awais 12*).

INDORE GAME

With dominant India looking invincible, Australia — led by stand-in skipper Steve Smith — will be looking to find answers and put up a better show in the third Test

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN
@Indore

MARK William Calaway, widely known as 'The Undertaker', had one of the most remarkable streaks of all time. At WrestleMania, a big PPV for the WWE, he went 21-0 from 1991 before finally losing a match to Brock Lesnar in 2014.

Every year, every match, Calaway would come back, using all of his old tricks to keep the run going. Even if the script got boring because you knew how it was going to end, he kept the audience hooked. A month before he won the last of his 21 games, a sporting heavyweight took baby steps towards achieving a similar sort of invincibility. The Australians were in India for the four-match Border-Gavaskar Trophy. The dominance was near total. Four-nil; one win by an innings, another inside three days, one with eight wickets to spare and a fourth with six wickets to spare.

The Indian Test team in India is bit like Calaway at Wrestlemania. They don't lose all that often. Since their last series loss — England in the winter of 2012 — they have won 15 series in a row, winning 36 of the 44 Tests on offer (six draws and two losses). Out of those 36, 15, including the first Test at Nagpur, have come by an innings. Twenty five per cent of those 36 are by a margin in excess of 150 runs. Only one time has the margin of runs been fewer than 100 (Bengaluru 2017 against Australia).

Just how are they so ludicrously good? If one were to use a Harry Potter reference, think of them as possessing the Elder Wand, Resurrection Stone and the Cloak of Invisibility at the same time. Given they are blessed with so many good options, they keep finding different ways to win. Top-order batters losing wickets? Lower-order runs. Spinners not taking enough wickets? Bowling dry. Threatening opposition spinners? Counter-attacking runs. Losing the toss? Continuing to take wickets against the run of play to bleed teams of 40-50 runs. Conceding the first innings lead?

LOL, easy there. They don't concede first innings leads in these parts. Okay, that's not really true. In the 44 Tests they have played in India since 2013, they have given away the lead on six occasions, with the most recent one coming in New Delhi the week before last. Coming into the series, Australia were one of only two sides who had managed to take first innings leads in multiple Tests. It's why this series was a big enough challenge for India. What followed, though, was very predictable. You give them a millimetre to work with and they are good enough to blow it wide open. So, it was not a surprise to see Australia fold in the manner they did because they gave India the turning circumference of a fire engine to work with.

> I enjoyed whatever I did in Delhi. My job was to keep it simple. You just need to back your defence, the wickets are not unplayable. You apply yourself, back your defence and there is definitely scope for batters to score. You can't just defend, you have to look for scoring opportunities, that is what I tried to do.
>
> — KS Bharat, India wicketkeeper
>
> I am feeling fine. There's going to be a level of discomfort for a while. I don't think it's going to be a 100 per cent for a fair while, but it's good enough. The ball is coming out quite nicely and I am bowling at full tilt. It won't be the first Test that I will play with some sort of discomfort. If I only played when I was 100 per cent, I would have only played 5-10 Tests.
>
> — Mitchell Starc, Australia pacer

On multiple instances during this series, the commentators have mentioned about how 'things happen quickly in India'. What that essentially translates to is this: every time you see your TV screen, the number on the wickets column changes. It's the unrelenting accuracy of the spinners and pacers, the noise of the crowd, nature of the pitch and visiting batters not really trusting their tools.

In the last two years alone, India have bowled out teams inside 36 overs six times (35.5 overs, 28.1 overs, 30.1 overs, 30.3 overs, 31.1 overs and 32.3 overs). Sure, you can blame the pitch but the excuses run out fairly quickly when the Indian lower-order stick around for more overs than the entire opposition line-up. You can even make a case for saying India's weakest link -- their sometimes brittle top-order, especially against spin -- would be welcome with open arms by opposition teams. All of this informs why they have built an imposing record.

In essence, touring India can be directly compared to the travails of playing red-ball cricket as a visiting cricketer in Australia in the 90s. A big lead, menacing bowlers with different varieties of zinc oxide on their face, an unapologetic crowd and some of the most talented cricketers to play the game. Remove the zinc cream and the similarities are seemingly endless, even down to how their pacers took wickets while the opposition seamers were an afterthought.

It's not that the Australians didn't know any of this. In a short cricket.com.au video posted on February 6, a whole host of Australian players had their say on the challenge of facing India in India. "I think it's always been a bit of a crown jewel for Australian touring teams," southpaw Mitchell Starc had said in the video. "It's one of, if not the hardest place to play away with such foreign conditions (and) how strong the Indian team is at the moment as well."

Steven Smith, one of only four visiting captains to have tasted a win in Indian conditions since 2010 (Alastair Cook, Joe Root and Graeme Smith are the others), was even more intimate. "It's a difficult place to win a Test, let alone a series," Smith had said. "I think if you can win in India, that would be bigger than an Ashes series."

As the caravan moves from New Delhi to Indore, the visitors, further depleted by the absence of regular skipper Pat Cummins but bolstered by the likely inclusions of Starc and Cameron Green, will work towards reducing the wrongs of the previous two Tests. The hosts, though, are in a position of strength. At this point in time, they only need to turn up and they are already in a position of ascendancy.

Like Calaway used to do at WrestleMania.

BATTING LINE-UP HAS TO STAND UP: McGRATH

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

NEVER has an Australian team fared so badly in India like the current lot.

Australia lost the first two Tests held at Nagpur and Delhi in a matter just six days. It's clear that the grit and determination, something that was visible in the past, is missing. Pace legend Glenn McGrath, who is in the city at the MRF Pace Foundation to coach young fast bowlers along with M Senthilnathan in his first camp of the year, is certainly disappointed with the way the Aussies have performed so far.

"Yes, certainly disappointed with the way Australia played the first two games. I am sure they will put up a better performance in the remaining two Tests," said McGrath, the second-highest wicket-taker for Australia in Tests with 563 wickets.

After the twin loss, Australia white-ball specialist Glenn Maxwell had said that the team had put up a strong fight. "I think they've (Australia) showed a lot of fight. Bar that one session, I thought they were outstanding. It's bloody difficult over there (India) — it's not an easy place to play, it's so foreign for us."

But like many former cricketers, McGrath does not agree with Maxwell's views. "I do not agree that Indian conditions are 'foreign' to us. Many of our players have toured India and the sub-continent before. Many have played in the IPL too. They (Australians) have a fair idea of what to expect when they tour India. Having said that, the pitches for the first two Tests were different from those that one got to play in the IPL."

McGrath felt that the team is lacking a clear mindset and that has proven to be their undoing. "I just think they have not settled on a game plan that they are confident with, a plan that they can go and execute. In the first Test, they were defensive and in the second, they were too aggressive. So we will see if they have learnt from the two matches and how they go about at Indore."

The visiting batters struggled to cope with spinners, especially Ravindra Jadeja, who won the Man of the Match awards in both the Tests. R Ashwin was also equally a thorn for the batters and their tactics to employ sweep shots, especially in the second innings of the second Test, backfired completely. On tricky surfaces which aids spin, Indian legends like Sunil Gavaskar and Sachin Tendulkar, to name a few, used to play with the 'V' and counter the bowlers at will. McGrath felt the visiting batters could take a leaf out of their book.

"Ya, one can take cue from the India batters, particularly from the legends you mentioned and play like them. Indian batters have grown up on playing on spinning tracks, so it will not be a bad idea to judge how they play and do the same," said the 53-year-old.

To add to their miseries, Australia will be without two experienced campaigners in Pat Cummins, the captain of the side, and opener David Warner in the upcoming Test in Indore. The Australian team will now rely on stand-in skipper Steve Smith to salvage some pride. McGrath is backing Smith to lead by example but is hopeful that the rest of batters can also lift their game.

"I am sure Steve Smith will lead from the front and do well. He has the capacity and the experience both as a batter and as a captain. I'm sure he has the mental toughness too to do the job. He knows the game very well. He has played plenty of Tests and has got an average of 60 plus. That says he's a quality player But I think they're relying too much on Steve Smith and Marnus Labuschagne at the moment. Travis Head has had a really good year as well. The whole batting line-up has to stand up," said McGrath, who also lauded the women's team for clinching the ICC Women's T20 World Cup in South Africa on Sunday.

PUNE: Former junior world No 1, Anupama Upadhyaya of Haryana and Chhattisgarh's Aakarshi Kashyap will fight for the women's singles title in the 84th Badminton Nationals after winning their respective semifinals on Monday. Khelo India sensation Aakarshi ended third seed Adita Rao's challenge with a 21-9, 21-19 win, while fourth seed Anupama prevailed over Asmita Chaliha 21-18, 11-21, 21-18.

Mooney to lead Gujarat Giants in WPL

MUMBAI: Prolific Australia opener Beth Mooney was on Monday named as captain of the Gujarat Giants for the inaugural season of the Women's Premier League (WPL), starting March 4. The explosive wicket-keeper batter had produced a match-winning 74-run knock in the title clash of the Women's T20 World Cup against South Africa and was adjudged the 'player of the match'. India all-rounder Sneh Rana will be Mooney's deputy.

Barcelona stunned by 1-0 loss at Almeria

BARCELONA: Three days after exiting the Europa League, Barcelona had a rare setback in the Spanish league after losing at Almeria 1-0. Barcelona headed to southern Spain after second-place Real Madrid was held 1-1 by Atletico Madrid on Saturday and had the chance to add to its seven-point lead at the top over its rival. Instead, Barcelona flopped to its first-ever loss to Almeria in their 16th meeting. Almeria moved out of the relegation zone.

Record-breaker Kane bats Kiwis back into 2nd Test

AGENCIES @Wellington

BRIEF SCORES: NZ 209 & 483 (Williamson 132, Blundell 90, Latham 83; Leach 5/157); Eng 435/8 & 48/1.

KANE Williamson was officially and unofficially New Zealand's best batter on the fourth day of the second Test Monday as his 26th Test century allowed New Zealand to lead England by 257 runs after following on. Tom Blundell made 90 and was the last man out as New Zealand's second innings ended at 483.

Under New Zealand-born head coach Brendon McCullum, England already has pulled off its highest successful run chase in Tests, scoring 378 to beat India at Edgbaston last year. This chase for 258 with more than 100 overs available would seem a walk in the park by comparison. Tim Southee removed Zac Crawley (24) with a ball that cut back to hit off peg and at stumps England was 48-1, needing 210 from 103 overs on the last day to sweep the two-match series.

The odds still heavily favour the visitors but Williamson at least has given New Zealand hope. When he reached 29 on his way to 132, he became New Zealand's highest run-scorer in Tests, overtaking his former teammate Ross Taylor, who ended his career last year with 7,682 runs.

Lovlina, Nikhat to lead Indian challenge

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chennai

ELITE boxers like Lovlina Borgohain and Nikhat Zareen will be in a competitive ring soon, bidding to become the best in the world. The duo has expectedly been named in the India women's boxing squad for the upcoming IBA World Championships which is set to kick off on March 15 in New Delhi.

The build-up to the championship has not been ideal with some big teams deciding to boycott it due to IBA's off-the-ring issues. But that won't deter the likes of Nikhat, who has been on song in recent times. The pugilist from Telangana will be looking to defend her title in the 50kg weight category. Lovlina, meanwhile, is still exploring her new weight category (75kg) after her Olympic bronze in 69kg category. After a subdued show at the 2022 Commonwealth Games, she answered her critics with a gold-medal effort in the Asian Championships. So this upcoming championships could give her a chance to learn where she stands ahead of Olympic qualification events, to be organised by International Olympic Committee, later this year.

Lovlina Borgohain

Nikhat Zareen

Both Nikhat and Lovlina had won the gold in their respective weight categories during the national championship which was held in December. As many as nine names, that have been included in the team for the championships, had won gold during the aforementioned national meet.

Unlike the past, where trials would be conducted just before major events, the team was picked by India high performance director Bernard Dunne and the rest of the coaching staff after careful consideration. National champions to miss out are Manju Rani (48kg), Shikhsa (54kg) and Poonam (60kg). "It's a line-up of champions and I am sure that they'll bring glory to the country again," said Ajay Singh, president of the Boxing Federation of India (BFI).

Squad: Nitu Ghanghas (48kg), Nikhat Zareen (50kg), Sakshi Chaudhary (52kg), Preeti (54kg), Manisha Moun (57kg), Jaismine Lamboria (60kg), Shashi Chopra (63kg), Manju Bamboria (66kg), Sanamcha Chanu (70kg), Lovlina Borgohain (75kg), Saweety Boora (81kg) and Nupur Sheoran (81+kg).

Rehab to World Cup final, Sinalo Jafta's incredible journey

GOMESH S
Express @ Women's T20 World Cup
CAPE TOWN

THE Australians are getting in a huddle at the non-striker's end. Ashleigh Gardner had just bowled the last ball of the final. As she was embraced by skipper Meg Lanning to celebrate their sixth T20 World Cup title, a few feet away from them was Sinalo Jafta — down on her knees, soaking in all her emotions.

Three months ago, Jafta was not thinking about being a part of the World Cup final in front of a record-breaking 12,782 home fans. When she got into a rehab on October 7, 2022, she thought her career as a cricketer was done and dusted. The online bullying and abuse she had received for her on-field performance few months before going to the rehab had pushed her over the edge. At 27, she was thinking about retiring.

"One really tough day and people literally just pull it into social media. I am so firm, just the bullying online, that literally sent me over the edge. And I just couldn't stop. I remember coming back from the Commonwealth Games, everything just broke. I didn't know who I was," recalled an emotional Jafta after the final.

The team management and Cricket South Africa had offered her assistance. With her mother, who brought up Jafta all by herself, to support, the Proteas wicketkeeper decided to enter into treatment in October.

"The team doctor, the management, they gave me two months of medical leave. In those 56 days of treatment, I've probably learned the best about myself. That they (the online bullies) are irrelevant. People are allowed to have their opinions, but it doesn't define who I am. So, I am forever grateful for that," she said.

Soon after she came out of rehab in December, Jafta included as part of the tri-series featuring India and West Indies in January 2023, followed by the T20 World Cup. It was her faith and the people who were there to support that gave her the strength to get through the process. Which is why, on Sunday evening, when she was down on her knees moments after the loss in the final at Newlands, Jafta was just looking back at the past few months in gratitude. To be a part of a home World Cup final in front of her family was unthinkable for her.

In fact, for someone who is a vibrant and happy person, someone who always shows warmth and makes people smile, Jafta was going through a rollercoaster of emotions while opening up about her journey in the lead up to the World Cup. "I am doing a whole 360 (degree) now," laughs Jafta, wiping her tears.

"The one thing I learned in the time off, is it is always a behavioural thing. And the one thing I'm very firm on is I must be the same person on the field as I am off the field. Always, always praying. I just got caught on to them for my sobriety at the end of the day. The team has been so supportive during this phase. All I can say is thank you to the management, teammates, and everyone else."

"It's actually pretty... I'm at the best phase of my life and I'm grateful for it. It wouldn't be possible without God, for one, and yeah, what a journey! Now, as a 28-year-old, I have got my career ahead of me. And the fact that I could say I have a career for me is probably the biggest blessing. Going into bat, to keep, I just play fearless (cricket) because what is the worst that could happen? It is a game. Cool, but that doesn't define who I am."

Jafta doesn't just have a career ahead of her, but a T20 World Cup silver medal hangs around her neck as well. When it was pointed out, she bursts into a big smile and kisses the medal. And she is not going to let go of it anytime soon.

Michigan power crews work, California recovers after storms

Some Michigan residents faced a fourth straight day without power on Sunday as crews continued work to restore electricity to more than 165,000 homes in the greater Detroit area following last week's ice storm

WARNINGS OF TORNADO

Powerful storms with widespread wind gusts moved into Oklahoma on Sunday evening from the Texas panhandle. The National Weather Service said that tornado watches and warnings remained in effect in parts of Oklahoma after tornados were spotted there and in Kansas

168,000

HOMES AND BUSINESSES WITHOUT POWER

In hard-hit southeastern Michigan, still reeling from the ice storm and high winds, the state's two main utilities—DTE Energy and Consumers Energy—reported about 168,000 homes and businesses were without power as of about 6 pm on Sunday. About 132,000 of those were DTE customers

GUSTS UP TO 144 KM PER HOUR

Widespread gusts up to 144 kilometres were reported in southwest Oklahoma with downed trees and power lines, road closures and damage to homes around Norman and Shawnee

Assessing extent of damage

The Norman Police Department said on Facebook that they were responding to storm damage on the south and eastern sides of Norman about 32 kilometres south of Oklahoma City. In their post, they said they are still assessing potential injuries and the extent of all the damage

Another storm coming their way

Hecht said the utility's meteorologists have been tracking another storm system that will move into Michigan on Monday, and the utility is "prepared to respond"

TIME-CONSUMING EFFORTS

DTE Energy spokeswoman Cindy Hecht said power restoration efforts have proven time-consuming because of the large number of damaged lines, including individual lines linking single homes on the grid

The outages prompted some Democratic state lawmakers to call for legislative hearings to question utilities about the long restoration times and reliability issues

SECOND-LARGEST NUMBER OF OUTAGES

Hecht said that was the second-largest number of outages DTE has ever experienced, topped only by a March 2017 wind storm that cut power to about 800,000 of its customers

US agency blames origins of Covid on China lab leak

In pushback, Beijing asks Washington to stop politicising the matter

REPORT

WASHINGTON: China on Monday rejected claims that the Covid-19 pandemic arose from a leak at one of its laboratories, following media reports that the US Department of Energy has determined that was the most likely cause of the outbreak.

The conclusion—noted in a classified report by Director of National Intelligence Avril Haines's office, The Wall Street Journal reported—marks a shift by the Energy Department, which had previously said it was undecided on how the virus emerged.

People who read the classified report were quoted in the Journal and The New York Times as saying the department made its judgement with "low confidence," highlighting how different agencies remain divided over the origins of Covid-19 and the pandemic that swept the globe in early 2020.

The conclusion, reportedly the result of new intelligence, is nevertheless significant because the department works with a network of national laboratories, including some that do advanced biological research.

The department now joins the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) in believing that the pandemic, which has left nearly seven million people dead, was the result of a mishap in a Chinese laboratory.

Beijing again denied the claim, with a foreign ministry spokesperson telling people to "stop stirring up claims about laboratory leaks, stop smearing China, and stop politicising the origin-tracing issue."

"A laboratory leak wasn't found to be possible by authoritative scientific conclusions drawn by joint experts from China and the (World Health Organization)," Mao Ning said at a press conference.

The WHO said it had not received any information about the Energy Department's findings and was continuing to examine "all available scientific evidence," spokesperson Tarik Jasarevic said. "We call on China and the scientific community to undertake necessary studies" for determining the virus' origin, he added. "Until we have more evidence, all hypothesis are still on the table."

The White House maintained Sunday that American intelligence remained divided on the issue.

Four US intelligence agencies believe Covid occurred through natural transmission, while two others remain undecided, the Journal reported. White House National Security Advisor Jake Sullivan emphasised a "variety of views" on the matter remain.

"Right now, there is not a definitive answer that has emerged from the intelligence community on this question," he told CNN on Sunday.

In mid-February, the WHO pledged to do everything possible "until we get the answer" on Covid's origins, denying a report suggesting the agency had abandoned its investigation. The scientific community sees it as crucial to determine the origins of the pandemic in order to better fight or even prevent the next one.

WHEN I READ SAIRA'S CHARACTER, I KNEW I HAD TO PLAY IT

Actor Kubbra Sait, who played the role of Saira in Farzi – starring Shahid Kapoor and Vijay Sethupathi – speaks about her brief but vital role

MONIKA MONALISA

KUBBRA Sait's character, Siara, has very limited screen time but every time she makes her on-screen appearance, she changes the course of the story in Farzi, which is currently streaming on Amazon Prime Videos. The web series, a comedy-crime thriller about counterfeit money also stars the likes of Shahid Kapoor, Vijay Sethupathi, Kay Kay Menon and Bhuvan Arora.

Sait, who grew up in Bengaluru, believes the character Saira probably came to her because of her desire to work with the director duo Raj & DK. "I was excited about working with them. I made that wish in my heart in 2009, even before moving to Mumbai. I had watched 99 and I loved it. Fast forward to 2021, I got a call from Mukesh Chhabra's office as well as D2R (Raj & DK's production house)," recalls Sait.

Having done some strong characters like Kukoo in Sacred Games Season 1, she still went ahead with Saira, despite the short screen time. This, because she felt the character is a 'badass' and just a 'little of her is enough menace'. "I need to remind myself that I'm having fun as I go and grow. Saira is strong, sharp and brilliant. Her tongue is lethal. When I read the writing of her character, I knew I had to play it. I love her cool-as-a-cucumber attitude and it happened like all good things have happened thus far," says Sait, adding that she wishes she had more time on the set with Raj & DK.

The motto of Saira was to create trouble for Kay Kay Menon's character in the series. And Menon was one of the smoothest to work with. "He is easy-peasy and chill to work with. I absolutely love it when my co-actor asks, 'Should we run the lines?' From start to finish, Kay Kay is a giving, kind and generous human. I loved sharing space with him, both in real and reel circumstances," says Sait.

With the first season ending on a cliffhanger, there is much anticipation about season 2. However, Sait is tight-lipped. "My lips are sealed. But if Chellam sir (character from the series The Family Man) can do a cross-over in Farzi, I'm sure Raj & DK have something up their sleeves. But we'll all wait and watch," mentions Sait for whom the year seems busy with projects like The Good Wife, Shehar Lakhot, and Laal Batti. "Visiting Bengaluru is on standby at the moment for this reason," she concludes.

Grieving Loss

After the aftermath of the earthquake in the Republic of Türkiye, volunteers from B'luru give CE a glimpse of the help pouring in from the city to the quake-hit country

TUNIR BISWAS

ON February 6, 2023, two consecutive earthquakes shook the tectonic plates of the Republic of Türkiye and Syria in humongous seismic proportions (7.8 Mw). Both countries have been left devastated in the wake of the calamity and relief is being sent from all over the world. The double earthquakes (and the subsequent ones) have been one of the worst calamities to have happened in both nations' history. In Türkiye's case, it is the deadliest seismic event yet. With more than 51,000 fatalities overall (over 44,000 deaths in Türkiye and over 6,700 in Syria) and still rising, help has come to both nations from all over the world. India also happens to be one of them.

Among the help being given from India, the Garden City is playing a vital role. One of them is the city-based SCEAD Foundation, which started gearing up for its relief programme almost three weeks ago. "One of the things we are doing is collaborating with various educational institutions across the city, who are all collecting groceries. We are in touch with the Turkish embassy in Delhi, and the Indian customs are helping us reach there. Fortunately, we have a branch of our organisation in Istanbul, which is making the process of sending the relief packages to the affected region easier," says Siju Thomas Daniel, founder of SCEAD.

Among the educational institutes with whom SCEAD is working includes the Christ Academy. "We have almost 8,500 students here who have contributed together to the cause. The contributions were collected by SCEAD from our academy a few days ago. We started working on it over two weeks ago and have collected all the necessary amenities like toiletries, blankets, and food packets, among others," says Rev. Fr. Joice Eluvathingal, principal of Christ Academy.

One of the authoritative bodies that have worked to make the process easier is the Indian customs and Harsh Vardhan Umre, commissioner of customs and GST, Indian Revenue Service, has been spearheading the process. "After the tragedy struck, we realised we had to start sending out aid, in however small ways we can. A big initial challenge was the time-consuming procedure of getting the relief kits from here to Türkiye, especially if we do it independently. That is why we decided to work with the Turkish consulate and that helped accelerate the process as we had fewer formalities to go through. I believe after the relief processes are done, we need to carefully examine why such a situation occurred. I mean it was a natural calamity but it still must have had its reasons. Once we do that, we would be able to prevent such high-scale destruction and not be restricted to only reacting to disasters but preventing them as well," says Umre, who is also the founder of Ahimsa International, an organisation that has also been involved in the relief process.

HELPING HANDS

Two Turkish volunteers from Istanbul, who had worked previously in Bengaluru, share their experiences

TUNIR BISWAS

THE entire country has been mobilised but since Istanbul is the economic centre of Türkiye, the heaviest responsibilities lie on this city's shoulders. Both materials for relief and moral support have been given mostly from here. There are some organisations like Disaster and Emergency Management Presidency (AFAD) and AHBAP (a humanitarian NGO), to which we send our funds," shares Gülsen Minaz, mentioning that health and technical personnel were sent from Istanbul and other cities to the earthquake site.

With another two earthquakes of 6.4 Mw and 5.6 Mw magnitudes hitting the nation, things have taken a bleak turn. "Before the most recent earthquakes, the government had expertise on the buildings. While most of the buildings left standing are marked as half-ruined, some remained undamaged. So, the victims who lived in those undamaged buildings were sent home. But now, especially in cities of the Hatay province, people are trapped under debris," shares Doganay Bozdag. He explains that most volunteers are also quake victims.

The basic utilities are in the hour of need and the country is doing as much as it can. "Large monetary donations were collected both abroad and in Türkiye to reconstruct new buildings and to provide financial aid to the victims for one year. It was reported that the construction of the new buildings would be completed by then. We are grateful for countries that are helping us," says Minaz.

While relief packages are coming in frequently, the volunteers feel the bigger focus right now is to build homes for the victims as they don't have nowhere to go. Some victims who have undamaged vehicles are choosing to sleep there, which is not recommended as safe either.

Incidentally, both Minaz and Doganay had previously lived in Bengaluru when they were working with SCEAD. "We worked for the organisation in 2013 and it was a great experience. I felt visiting orphanages and government schools were especially beneficial both for the children and us volunteers. In addition, it gave us a chance to learn about a different culture," concludes Doganay.

FIT BIT

UPAVISTHA KONASANA PREP

(SEATED STRADDLE POSE PREP)

A preparatory pose for the complete forward bend Upavistha Konasana. It is a gentle stretch that strengthens the knees, ankles and quadriceps, and opens the hips, hamstrings, lower back, psoas and pelvis, while restoring the involved muscles & joints.

STEPS

- Start in Dandasana (Staff Pose), keeping the legs together, hands by the side of your body, spine erect. Take a few deep breaths here.
- Inhale and take one leg out at a time until your legs are the widest V possible without overstretching your inner thighs or hamstrings.
- Exhale here completely. With both legs stretched out, press through your big toe mounds and root down your femur (thigh bone).
- Inhale, place your hands in front. Exhale, bend your torso forward from the hips, sliding your hands.
- Exhale completely and rest your elbows on your inner thighs. The chin is slightly tucked in.
- Stay here and take about six deep breaths. Be seated, connecting your pelvis to the floor.
- To release, inhale, slide your hands back to sit up, exhale and come back to Dandasana and relax with knees bent.

BENEFITS

- Helps sync your breath, i.e., exhaling to bend forward and inhaling to come up.
- Great hip and moderate heart opener.
- Opens and stretches hamstrings, calf, lower back, hip flexors, and pelvic muscles strengthening them.
- Strengthens the hips, knees and ankles joints.
- Lengthens the torso, improving spinal health.
- Ensures that the rib cage, upper back, and abdomen are strengthened and lengthened.
- Help the lungs to breathe soft and deep.
- Brings a calming effect on the mind.
- Helps relieve mental stress or tension.
- Promotes a smooth flow of prana (energy) throughout the body.
- Ensures the outward flow of negative energy (apana vayu).
- Works wonders in urinary disorders and reduces menstrual pain. Treat ailments related to hormonal imbalances, infertility, or polycystic ovary syndrome (PCOS).

LIMITATIONS

People with injury at the ankle, knee, or hip joints, lower back, spine, hamstrings, or legs, or have undergone any recent abdominal, knee, or hip surgery, suffering from weak musculature or general body weakness, migraine, severe arthritis or lower back pain, should avoid this.

Pregnant women should avoid deep hip opening during the initial stage of pregnancy.

A journey so far, map in hand

I was just four when I received a simple, yet very relevant gift. A travelling uncle had returned from Germany, and among the trove of trinkets from his large suitcase, an atlas was revealed. 'It's a Big Big World Atlas' – A mammoth 10-page work for children, made of cardboard, with vividly captured and coloured continents, with references to their physical features, natural resources, and political boundaries, this was my surprise. So captivating was this great piece of academic art, that at such a tender age, the beauty of geography and the enchantment of the world turned into a lasting love affair.

Maps and atlases have played a prolific role in cementing my affinity with our world. The atlas that I was gifted quenched my curious thirst about fascinating places and their hidden secrets. My daily routine involved dedicating a little time after school in this big atlas, so big that it's magical display of the lands and the seas played in front of my eyes with each geographic feature embracing the other in an earthly symphony. The more I gazed, the excitement of reading and deciphering maps only increased, with a large collection of atlases getting added to my bookshelf. In time, I managed to memorise capitals, flags, and even country shapes and borders.

Maps have left an indelible mark on human history. The zeal to explore new lands, in turn discovering the new world. Whether it's the great migration, the spice route or the silk road, or crossing of the Atlantic on the Spirit of St Louis by Charles Lindbergh, to the longest passenger flight traversing Singapore-New York in 19 hours, or a simpler map used by a delivery agent to get you hot food, there's always a map. Maps bridge places, join the dots between two unknown locations, and simplify our perception of an otherwise incomprehensible planetary topography. Philosophically, maps also remind us of our position on Earth and where we belong.

When I sift through an atlas, I spend at least 15 minutes minutely inspecting a single page. Take the map of Russia for instance. In his seminal work, Prisoners of Geography, Tim Marshall says, "Wherever we are, there is Russia, perhaps to our east or west, to our north or south." This six-million sqm nation spans two continents and 11 time zones, and even in a regular atlas, requires more than a page to be spread out. Why is Russia so vast? Why is Chile so narrow? How does Norway have the most (2,39,057) islands? There are several such questions that boggle my mind each time I open an atlas. And the sheer romance of it is not restricted to just unearthing interesting trivia, but also comprehending massive geographical scale. As I sit at home in Bengaluru, and spot the Himalayas in an atlas, I imagine how far the snow-clad mountains would be from where I am. It's a splendid, mesmeric feeling of yet so near, yet so far.

How marvellous is an atlas and the maps within, for it folds the entire world in a few sheets of paper, and yet unfolds the intricacies and vastness of that very world. Whatever the projection (Mercator is the most-widely used), maps present us the Earth in her full glory. Whether it's plotting India on a map in school geography or pursuing cartography itself, maps are an essential facet of our life – which the wise proclaim as itself being a map, where we are guided by destiny from one moment, place and experience to another.

City-based artiste and athlete Anu Vaidyanathan shares insights about her stand-up comedy hour, her film scripts and her years competing in triathlons

JACK OF ALL TRADES

TUNIR BISWAS

FILMMAKER, stand-up comedian and triathlete Anu Vaidyanathan is on a high right now. Currently, on a tour of the world with her maiden stand-up hour BC:AD (Before Children:After Diapers), she recently made her Off-Broadway debut in New York in January. "Performing there was a significant landmark for me, because Broadway is everyone's dream. In New York, there are three levels in theatre – Broadway, Off-Broadway, and then the more independent theatres. So to debut Off-Broadway is on every comic's bucket list. But when I walked in there, I didn't know what I was getting into, but that made it even sweeter. I walked away with a great sense of accomplishment that we showed up and did the show. And people seem to have enjoyed it," says Vaidyanathan, who feels her fast-talking 'American' cadence helped her a great deal in New York.

BC:AD is an hour of humorous storytelling and not a series of discrete jokes or bits. "The fountainhead of the story is the moment I became a mother. Every woman's life changes once they have children. So the narrative is about a woman who goes from before having children to after changing diapers. It's a peephole into her aspirations and how she manages her life after having the added responsibility of two little lives. I have no complaints about being a parent, although I miss the free time and all the open spaces. At the same time, I think, you know, if I had not been a parent, I would have never been an artiste. So I think it was the best piece that I could pick to write an hour on," shares Vaidyanathan, who is looking forward to performing BC:AD in the city on April 9 at the Bangalore International Centre.

Vaidyanathan is fairly new to stand-up. In that time, she managed to craft two comedy hours, each taking around a year to finish. She believes having a writer's background helped her ease into stand-up quicker. "Being a writer first has a lot of advantages. You're never quite short of things to say. It's more the performative element that needed fine-tuning over the year. To hone my performative skills, I even went to clown school last year for a month and a half and was under the guidance of Philippe Gaulier," she says adding that she also performed at the Edinburgh Fringe Festival in 2022, which helped shape her hour better.

As she is a writer, she has dabbled in films as well. In fact, she is currently working on two film projects. "I am a filmmaker first. A couple of my scripts went to the final rounds of Rotterdam and Sundance (film festivals). Currently, I am working on two scripts. One is a comedy and the other is a satirical thriller. I believe I am ready to take both these scripts to the market," says Vaidyanathan, who outside of writing and directing, also enjoys editing her films.

Vaidyanathan is more than an artiste. She was the first Indian to compete in the Ironman Triathlon in 2006 and three years later, she became the first Asian woman to finish the Ultraman Canada triathlon. Has her experience in athletics helped her in her creative pursuits? "I don't believe sports answers all the questions. But it does instill a bit of discipline and resilience when it comes to overcoming a bad day. And you can have several bad days as an artiste, as a stand-up especially. Similarly, I have had bad days in sports as well. I especially remember trying to come back to running postpartum and really breaking my body. So, while there is not at all a direct equivalence between stand-up and athletics, I do think that I'm in a very different place physically and mentally because of my years in triathlon," she concludes.

Upendra and Tanya Hope

KABZAA IS GOING TO BE A FEAST FOR THE AUDIENCE: UPENDRA

The third track, a special number, featuring Upendra and Tanya Hope was grandly launched at director R Chandru's hometown of Sidlaghatta amid much fanfare, and in the presence of Shivarajkumar, and other dignitaries

A SHARADHAA

WITH just a few weeks left for the release of Upendra's Kabzaa, the makers launched Chum Chum Chali Chali, the third song from the album. The song featuring Upendra and Tanya Hope was grandly launched at director R Chandru's hometown of Sidlaghatta amid much fanfare, and in the presence of Shivarajkumar, and other dignitaries. Penned by lyricist Pramod Maravante, this mass number composed by Ravi Basrur is sung by Aira Udupi, Manish Dinakar, and Santhosh Venky.

The event was also attended by Kabzaa heroine Shriya Saran, Geeta Shivrajkumar, and Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar, among others.

Shivarajkumar said that he has been a fan and friend of Upendra. He wished Chandru, with whom he has collaborated in Mylari, the best of luck for the success of Kabzaa.

Health Minister K Sudhakar noted that the Kabzaa audio launch event was more like a festival. "I wanted to do this song release ceremony for Chandru in our Chikkaballapur. But the director wanted to do this event in his hometown. I had previously released the audio of RRR, and I want Kabzaa to win at a bigger level than that. There is a lot of hype around the film, and I'm sure it is going to do well," he said.

Taking to the stage, producer-director Chandru said, "We have already released two songs in Hyderabad and Chennai, and we have released the third track in Shidlaghatta. I am glad to see this gathering come together for the song release event, and Geethaka (Shivarajkumar's wife) launch our production banner, Siddheshwara Enterprises. We are proud to present Kabzaa, which is another big film coming from Kannada industry.''

Speaking at the event, Upendra assured that he will be directing Shivanna as early as possible. "I wanted to say 'action' - 'cut' to Puneeth, which I missed. But I will helm a project for Shivanna and will fulfill Geethaka's wish of producing the film under their banner."

Speaking about Kabzaa, Uppi added that Ravi Basrur is a hero of Kabzaa, who has given mass, classic, and melody songs. "Director Chandru will win everyone's hearts through Kabzaa. There are many miracles in the film and it is going to be a feast for the audience, and the story itself can be the highlight of the film."

Expressing happiness about her role in Kabzaa, Shriya Saran shared that the efforts put in by the director and the team for the film was laudable.

Kabzaa, presented by MTB Nagaraj, and produced by the R Chandru in association with Alankar Pandian is currently being censored. The film also features Sudeep in a pivotal role, and will be released worldwide on March 17, which also marks Puneeth Rajkumar's birth anniversary.

'BEING PART OF A PAN INDIA FILM IS A BIG STEP FOR ME'

Tanya Hope, who is part of the special song, could not make it to the event. However, speaking to CE, the actor, who became famous as the Basanni Girl post her song in Darshan's Yajamana, says she is equally happy to be part of another special song. "I'm really happy to be back with a special number, and this time with Upendra, who was my first co-star in Home Minister," says Tanya, adding, "I love dancing, and there is so much energy in Chum Chum Chali Chali. That's my vibe. Moreover dancing with Upendra Sir was really fun, and I was awestruck by his energy. Above all, Kabzaa is releasing in multiple languages, and it is nice that director R Chandru chose to have an actor from Karnataka for this special song. Being part of a Pan-India film is a big step for me."

Tanya is looking forward to a series of releases, especially in Tamil, which includes Kick, and, Golmaal, as she signs another project titled,Weapon. "In Kannada, I am waiting for Bell Bottom 2, starring Rishab Shetty, to go on floors," she adds.

Venya Rai roped in for Hayavadana's Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane

The young talent in Kannada is paired opposite Anjan Nagendra in this social youth entertainer

CE FEATURES

DIRECTOR Hayavadana has finalised Venya Rai, as the heroine for his upcoming directorial, Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane, which stars Anjan Nagendra (Kamblihula) in the lead. The young Sandalwood talent is juggling between her studies and her passion for cinema. She is currently in her 1st PUC and has already marked her debut with Bhavanapoorna, which is yet to see its release, Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane will be her second outing.

Speaking to CE, An excited Venya Rai hailing from Puttur said that director Hayavadana watched the rushes of Bhavapoorna, at the edit desk and decided to cast her. Now she is all geared up to begin shooting in March. Talking about her aspirations to become an actor, she says it is in the family. "My father, Chethan Rai Maani is an actor who has worked in Tulu, and Kannada films, and a couple of teleserials. My father has been a drama artiste and is my inspiration to become an actor," says Venya. Yello Jogappa Ninnaramane will be a travel movie and it tells the story of a father and son.

With Hayavadana doubling up as a producer in association with Pavan Simikeri under the Pandoras Box Production and Krishnachhhaya Chital banner, the film has Shivaprasad scoring the music, Ravichandran as editor, and Nataraj Maddalla as the cinematographer.

Ananya Panday wraps up shoot for Vikramaditya's cyber thriller

CE FEATURES

ANANYA Panday, who will soon be seen in Vikramaditya Motwane's cyber thriller, has wrapped up the shooting for the film.

Taking to Instagram on Monday, Panday shared two photos: one with Vikramaditya and the other with the entire film crew. "And that's a wrap! @motwayne I can never thank you enough but I hope I made you and continue to make you happy and proud and to every single member of this team who has given everything they have to this magical film - I love you guys and I can't wait for the world to see it," she captioned the post.

Vikramaditya also posted a photo with Ananya on Instagram and captioned the post, "Barely knew you 3 months ago. Today I'm proud to call myself a fan and you a friend."

This is the first time Vikramaditya and Ananya have collaborated for a project. Ananya was last seen opposite Vijay Deverakonda in Liger. The film bombed at the box office and received negative reviews. Besides the Vikramaditya film, she also has Kho Gaye Hum Kahan and Raaj Shaandilyaa-helmed Dream Girl 2 alongside Ayushmann Khurrana in her kitty.

'Mansore's scripts are not easy. They deal with unpopular themes' says Balaji Manohar, who talks about his role as a lawyer on 19.20.21 and his experience of working with the National award-winning director

CE FEATURES

BALAJI Manohar, the actor of Nathicharami, Bhak (2019), Arishadvarga (2019) and Avane Srimannarayana (2019), next will next be seen in National award-winning director, Mansore's 19.20.21. The film presented under Aagaaz Entertainment and bankrolled by (D Creations) is slated to release on March 3.

Balaji talking about his role in the political thriller reveals that he plays a lawyer who teams up with an activist and a journalist to deliver justice to a wrongly accused tribal boy. The actor, who likes to get prepared, shared a few details about getting into a lawyer's role. "Reading the script gave me an understanding of the large canvas of the film. The script was intense and filled with information. Having worked with Mansore in the past (Nathicharami) by his choice of characters and stories, I knew he was looking at delivering truth in such a way that it pushes us to question, debate, take a stand, raise a voice against injustices, " says Balaji, adding, "Coming to 19.20.21, my character -the lawyer, is truthful, high on integrity and fights for justice, especially for the poor who can neither afford the mental or physical strength to fight for justice in the court or endurance to bear the prolonged processes at the court until justice is delivered. "

Telling about the core message behind this film, Balaji says that Manju's (played by the lead actor, Shrunga)story is both heart-wrenching and inspiring. Manju shows us the power of resilience and the freedom one achieves just by standing by the truth. 19.20.21 as a film is a tribute and a celebration of our constitutional rights." he asserts.

About working with the director for the second time, he says, "Mansore's scripts are not easy. They deal with unpopular themes, that are normally avoided in public. They are thought-provoking and make you uncomfortable. It is unsettling like art should be. Being witness to these conversations through his characters changes you as a person. Each and every one who collaborates with Mansore knows this. It is difficult to work on a project if your passion for storytelling, thought process and worldview aren't aligned to the core idea of the script."

Balaji further explains Mansore's work and says that it was inspiring to watch him and his team. "The cinematographer Shivu, the direction team, art team led by Santosh Panchal, the sync sound team led by Mahaveer and the actors Shrunga, Mahadev Hadapad, Pallavi MD, Rajesh Nataranga and Krishna Hebbale Venkatesh Prasad embraced this new and unfamiliar style of filmmaking with zeal and enthusiasm and fought through the uncertainties and limitations of an independent film."

Coming to 19.20.21, my character -the lawyer, is truthful, high on integrity and fights for justice especially for the poor who can neither afford the mental or physical strength to fight for justice in the court of law or have the wherewithal to endure the prolonged processes of the court until justice is delivered

RANBIR KAPOOR TO STAR IN KISHORE KUMAR'S BIOPIC

CE FEATURES

RANBIR Kapoor, who is gearing up for the release of his next Tu Jhoothi Main Makkaar, recently confirmed at a promotional event for the film that he is working on the biopic of the late singer-actor Kishore Kumar.

At the film's promotional event in Kolkata, former cricketer Sourav Ganguly was also present along with Kapoor. When asked about whether he is working on his biopic, the actor said, "I think dada (Sourav Ganguly) is a living legend not just in India, but around the world. A biopic on him will be very special. Unfortunately, mujhe yeh film offer nahi hui hai (I have not been offered this film). I think the makers at Luv Films are still writing the script." Talking about being a part of Kishore Kumar's biopic, he added, "Main 11 saal se Kishore Kumar ke biopic pe kaam kar raha hoon (I have been working on Kishore Kumar's biopic for 11 years). We have been writing that with Anurag Basu and I'm hoping that it's gonna be my next biopic. But maine abhi tak dada k upar jo biopic banrahi hai uske baare mein kuch suna nahi hai (But so far, I haven't heard anything about the biopic being made on dada). So, I don't know." Tu Jhoothi Main Makkaar is directed by Luv Ranjan and also stars Shraddha Kapoor. The film is slated to release on Holi (March 8).
